

Qu'Appelle Progress.

Vol. XIV

QU'APPELLE STATION, N. W. T., THURSDAY, OCT. 27, 1898.

No. 2

FURNITURE. FURNITURE.

HAVING enlarged our premises this season, which gives us a floor depth of eight or five feet, we can now show the largest stock and finest assortment of furniture ever exhibited in the town of Qu'Appelle Station. We can suit the most fastidious, or the new beginner, with a cheap outfit.

Wedding and Holiday Presents a Specialty.

Church and School Furniture of the Newest Designs

PRICES RIGHT!

We are always pleased to show customers through our stock.

J. DOOLITTLE & CO.

ATTENTION, BUYERS!

Our fall stock is now complete in every line. Special values in Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, and Footwear of all kinds for fall and winter.

A full stock of Groceries at lowest possible prices.

S. H. Caswell & Co.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

LEGAL.

A. D. DICKSON, Barrister, Advocate, Solicitor, etc.
Office, first door south of the Queen's Hotel, Qu'Appelle St.

MEDICAL.

DR. G. E. CANTHEW, Qu'Appelle Physician, Surgeon, Coroner, etc. Graduate Toronto University and Licentiate College Physicians and Surgeons, Ont.

W. HENDERSON, M.D.C.M., Graduate of McGill University, Licentiate of College of Physicians and Surgeons, N.W.T. Office at home.

BUSINESS CARDS.

The Leland Hotel,
QU'APPELLE STATION, ASSA.

The most popular house in the west. Modern conveniences. Home comforts. First-class cuisine. Choice liquors and cigars. Good sample rooms for commercial travellers. Convenient to railway. Headquarters for stage to Fort Qu'Appelle.

THOS. BLACKWELL, Prop.

The Queen's Hotel.
Thos. Hilliard, Prop.

FIRST-Class accommodation for guests. Table supplied with the best in the market. Fine sample rooms for commercial travellers. Choice brands of Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Porter meets all trains. Rates $1 per day.

S. H. Caswell & Co.,
BANKERS,

Financial and Insurance Agents

COLLECTIONS SOLICITED—RETURNS PROMPTLY MADE.

Five Per Cent. Interest Allowed on Deposit Accounts.

CORRESPONDENTS:
MOLSON'S BANK, Winnipeg.
Drafts paid or per in all parts of Canada at the Molson's Bank.

Cheques and Drafts for all parts of the World Bought and Sold.

Qu'Appelle Station - - A 353.

MEETINGS

THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL of South Qu'Appelle meets the first Monday of each month. The Secretary-Treasurer will be in the office to attend to business every Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Applications for Transient Traders' Licenses, to Rent the Town Hall, and for Interments in the Cemetery, must be made to J. A. Ladgate, J. C. STARR, Sec. Treas.

F. BELL, Sec.

Qu'Appelle Lodge, A. F. & A. M., G. R. M., meets in the Masonic Hall, Qu'Appelle Stn., on Tuesdays, on or before full moon. Sojourning brethren cordially invited.
J. P. JONES, W.M.

A. HOLLINGSHEAD,
House, Sign and Carriage Painter.

Graining, Glazing, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining

ALL WORK PROMPTLY EXECUTED.
QU'APPELLE STATION and INDIAN HEAD

J. B. ROBINSON,
Contractor & Builder

Estimates given and all work promptly attended to.

INDIAN HEAD
Steam
Laundry

ALL WORK—None but first class. Hotel and family laundry at special rates.

C. O. DEMAUREZ,
Indian Head.

Agencies in all the leading towns of the North-West.

To the Electors of the District of South Qu'Appelle.

GENTLEMEN,—His Honor the Lieutenant Governor having dissolved the Third Legislature, of the North West Territories, it now becomes your duty to select a representative, for the next four years. In October last I asked your approval of the step I had taken, in accepting a position in the First Executive Council, of the N. W. Territories, selected by F. W. G. Haultain, Esq. and you were good enough to sanction my action in that regard.

As a member of that Government I now solicit the honor of being your representative in the Assembly about to be chosen.

I remain Gentlemen

Your obedient servant

GEORGE H. V. BULYEA

Qu'Appelle, Oct. 14th 1898

A COMPLETE SUPPLY

Of everything in Drugs, Patent Medicines Stationery, Jewelry and Fancy Goods on hand for the winter.

All kinds of Toilet Preparations at
THE QU'APPELLE DRUG & STATIONERY CO.'S STORE.

FREE!

—THE—

Progress-Vedette

WILL BE SENT

Free . . .

till Xmas, '98,

to anyone living in the local district of the paper, viz., Qu'Appelle Stn., Fort Qu'Appelle, Indian Head, Edgeley, McLean, Balgonie, etc.

Send your name

and get two months' sample copies free!

Business Men

To keep in close touch with your customers, issue business circulars to your patrons. It has a personal attraction, and business men have found it to be one of the very best principles. It will meet the approval of every individual.

JOB WORK AT RIGHT PRICES.

Envelopes, Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Post Cards, Circulars, Shipping Tags, Posters, Tickets, Price Lists, Pamphlets, Reports, Wedding Invitations, Calling Cards, Programmes. In fact, anything or everything.

To catch the immense fall trade, that will go to other markets, advertise in "THE PROGRESS."

Opposition Bungling

Special to the Progress

Indian Head, Oct. 26 '98.—This morning's Vidette says editorially that W. G. Vicars was not brought out as a conservative candidate and that the report is a Grit lie. It editorially supports Vicars, but the editorial absolutely kills him in this district.

A Plot.

The desire of certain parties in South Qu'Appelle has evidently been satisfied in foisting upon the constituency a candidate on party lines in opposition to Mr. Bulyea. In doing so they have placed themselves in a very unenviable position such as no other N.W. constituency has attempted. Is it possible (this thought has often occurred to me of late, during these election times) that Mr. Bulyea's record as a representative has been such that it cannot be attacked,—the public must arrive at that conclusion when such "foreign tactics" are introduced. Will the electors of South Qu'Appelle, consider, for a moment, that during this year Mr. Bulyea has been entrusted by the Local Gov't. with the most important mission it has ever undertaken, the regulation of the Liquor traffic in the Klondyke; and what has been the result? Mr. Bulyea has not only acquitted himself honorably, but has strengthened the Government and the Territories by receiving the unanimous approval of the Legislature on his success. Had Mr. Bulyea done nothing else the Electors should be proud of him and again honor him with their confidence.

Yours truly
Elector.

Qu'Appelle Oct. 24 '98

Edgeley Echoes.

Mr. Dale very ably filled the pulpit of the Methodist church last Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Galley.

The Methodist church, which for some time lately has been undergoing repairs, is now about ready to be re-opened. We soon expect to hear of some special form of opening, such as a grand Harvest Home dinner, including roast fowl and all the nice things imaginable. The building now presents a neat and creditable appearance, and shows careful work on the part of the workmen employed. During the past few months the service has been held in the Edgeley football hall.

We have now in our vicinity much sickness—some cases of a mild nature, and some serious enough to cause alarm. Latest reports indicate that the serious cases are improving, and those who are entirely used up with severe colds, etc., will doubtless feel much better in a short time.

The public school library fund is still open to any who wish to contribute even though it be a mite. One consignment has been sent for and will arrive in due time.

Double Wedding

We are sure that many in this community will read the following with interest and will join with the PROGRESS in wishing the newly married couples every happiness in the days to come.

During the past summer there have been quite a number of those events which always cause more or less of a ripple in society, and bring joy and happiness to loving hearts. On Thursday of last week a double wedding took place in the Methodist church, when Miss Florence Glover and Mr. Wm. B. Donaldson and Miss Laura Glover and Mr. Jas. McCall, were united in the bonds of wedlock. The church was nicely decorated, a beautiful arch of evergreens being erected in front of the rail.

The brides were richly attired in superb costumes. The Misses Gertrude and Rose Glover acted as bridesmaids; while the bridegrooms were supported by Messrs. Harry Stevens and Carlos Cryderman.

A large number of spectators were present. Rev. Mr. Robson performed the ceremony, after which a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Glover on Seventh street. The parties left on the afternoon train for the coast, where the honeymoon will be spent, after which they will reside in Kamloops. Vernon News B. C.

Spencerville Splashes.

Threshing is now general amongst the farmers in this vicinity.

The young people are now agitating for a skating rink. This is a move in the right direction.

The young man who in summer time was so disturbed in his slumbers by a chorus of strange voices crying "Lie over" has now ascertained that it came from his potato patch which was very much overcrowded in the hills.

A meeting of the members of the band is called for the evening of October 31st, at the school, for the purpose of re-organization, and any person having any of the instruments in their possession are requested to bring them along, as owing to the numerous celebrations which are to take place soon, we think it only just that the band should do honor on such occasions by their presence.

The November number of the Delineator is called the early winter number. The present and prospective fashions are exhaustively described, and the literary and household features are of the usual high degree of merit. "Made on Earth," a story by Cornelia Atwood Pratt, typifies the love that women cherish for a home they can call their own. The College stories, by Nancy Vincent McClelland, the scenes of which are laid at Vassar, reveal much of the significance of college spirit and student ties. In the series on the common ills of life, by Dr. Grace Peckham Murray, appears an article on opesity that will prove of general as well as particular interest. Household subjects, a Thanksgiving menu, and the regular departments social observances, the latest books, etc., are as complete and varied as the most fastidious could desire. The Delineator Publishing Co., Limited, 23 Richmond St., West, Toronto, Ont. Subscription price, $1 a year, single copies, 15c.

Art Embroidery Emporium.

ALL and see my Allos knitting wool and other wools of all kinds. An immense and well assorted variety of Crocheted, Knitted or Fancy Work, Silk Corsets, Plush Balls and Pom-Poms. All kinds of threads, all kinds of trimmings, all kinds of ribbons, all kinds of cushion tops. Some new clouded silk and linen thread. The very best qualities kept for the finest work. Beautiful Dolls, Centre-pieces and Hacks-a-back. I have anything you can ask for in stamped linen goods. My Millinery Department is complete. Many of these goods can be purchased no where else in town.

++ Values the best ++

MISS E. GRAY.

When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly

CHAPTER V.

When James Van Driscoll left the Hamilton mansion he walked slowly down the street. He did not turn his steps homeward, for a fever of unrest was upon him. How beautiful the night was! How bright the stars, and the full white moon that shed such a silvery radiance over the trees and green earth and sleeping flowers! He felt that he must walk on and on until the throbbing of his heart should cease. He wanted to be alone—to think of Gertrude, and to ponder, too, over a strange thing that had occurred. In the midst of his declaration of love to Gertrude, and while he was waiting in such anxiety for the words that would fall from her lips, there flashed across his vision another face—white, stern, and terrible in its hard, set expression as he had seen it last in the crowded court-room, and he could hear a wild voice crying out:—

"If you and my father to prison, heaven will curse you for it! Every joy will turn to Dead Sea fruit on your lip, every hope fall as you grasp it, and in that hour remember my father—and me!"

The district attorney shuddered, a cold chill passing over him as he recalled it. How strange it was in the hour which should be the beginning of a life of happiness and love, he should recall Jessie Carr, the old photographer's daughter, and her prediction!

He walked up one street and down another, smoking one cigar after another, until midnight sounded from some distant belfry. Then he went home to the palatial mansion to which he hoped some day to bring fair Gertrude as his bride. He could not rest after he had entered the house, so for an hour or so he sat by the open window lost in conflicting thoughts.

He would certainly be an equal match for beautiful Gertrude as far as a money view of it went. The grand mansion in which he sat was his. So were the row of mansions on both sides of the street as far as his eyes could reach, also valuable lands along the river front. Every one knew the story of his life. It had been a strangely thrilling and romantic one. He thought of it as the moon became obscured behind dark, heavy, threatening clouds, and one by one the stars died, the wind rose, rocking the trees, and presaging a heavy storm. On just such a night, years before, an ocean steamer was heading toward port. The one prayer of both captain and crew was, to pass the light-house in safety, thereby escaped the hidden reefs that lay in the way. It was long after midnight when the terrible storm broke at last. The hissing of the wind rose into a scream, the sullen waters dashed the steamer about.

The rocky clouds seemed to fall on the sea, pouring down a deluge of water. It had broken in all its fury. The thunder roared; the lightning flashed; it was one of these terrible storms that carry destruction everywhere. At first it was wonderful, then it became alarming, and at last frightful.

The old light-house that had stood for a score or more of years—a signal for the mariners—went down in the gale, leaving the great waste of waters to the inky darkness, save for the vivid flashes of lightning that lighted up the heavens for a moment with a red glare, then died out, leaving the mighty waves and the steamer to God's will.

Over the wild fury of the storm those on shore heard a sound that filled their hearts with terror—the firing of the minute gun, which denoted that a ship was in distress at sea.

They listened with strained ears. Over the wild hissing of the storm they could hear the cries of the passengers and crew. Then the steamer struck the rocks, and there was a mighty crash. The ship was so near now that those on the shore, listening with strained ears and bated breath, could hear the wild cries and prayers of the drowning, and see between the flashes of the high waves tossing dark objects about. When the gray dawn broke, they found a little babe, unclothed and half drowned, wedged in between two broken spars, close by the water's edge.

Rough men raised it tenderly, while great tears rolled down their weather-beaten cheeks as they whispered one to the other: "Heaven bless the little one! It is the only living creature saved from the terrible wreck!"

All, save the babe, had gone down in the storm.

The women took the child from them, saying that it would be almost a miracle if it survived. The story of the ocean disaster filled all the papers the following morning, and thousands flocked to the fisherman's cottage, where the babe had been taken, to view the little one whom God had decreed should be saved when all else perished.

It was soon ascertained that the only babe among the list of passengers was that of Mr. James Driscoll and his young wife. They had been traveling abroad during the past two years; but when their little one was a few months old, the importuning of the grandparents to bring the little one over, that they might behold their wonderful grandson, became so urgent with every letter, there was nothing else to do but to gratify their earnest wishes and, full of hope, they embarked on the ill-fated steamer.

Among the first to learn the dread news from the "extras" was Horatio Van Driscoll, the grandfather. He had proceeded with scarcely a dozen lines ere he turned to his wife with the bitterest cry that she had ever heard fall from his lips.

"Marcia!" he cried, "come here and read this to me. I am stunned. Great God! tell me that I have not read aright. Marcia," he whispered, in an awful voice, "it says that 'The Lady Elgin' has gone down. She was to have been in port to-day with our only son, his wife, and their little child. Read it to me, Marcia. The lines swim before my eyes. 'The Lady Elgin' has gone down with all on board, except a little child. Tell me it is not true, or I shall go mad!"

He forgot that the grief of his wife was as great as his.

For an instant the darkness of death swept over her. Her heart stopped beating, her senses began to reel; then, with a mighty—ay, a superhuman effort, she controlled herself and attempted to comfort him.

"I can not say 'God's will be done,' Marcia," he moaned. "There are so many others in the world who are tired of life, and who are praying for death, that could better be spared. If I had been taken in his place it would not have been so pitiful. When the old die it is just; it is when the young die that we cry out that heaven is not merciful."

When they had controlled themselves sufficiently to read all the long columns through, they learned of the little child, James Van Driscoll's babe, which the waves had cast up without taking from it its feeble, fluttering life.

They lost no time in going to the fisherman's cottage for the little one, their tears falling like rain when they saw it sleeping so contentedly on the breast of the woman who was nursing it.

They lavished a world of love on the bright little fellow who grew up in their home, becoming the sunshine of their lives, the delight of their old age. He received as fine an education as wealth could provide and a quick, brilliant mind retain. There was but one drawback to the old folks' complete peace of mind. They desired the young man to study for the ministry—to see him a Methodist minister was the one ambition of their lives. But, for the first time, he rebelled gently but firmly.

"My heart goes out to the law," he said. "I can not be a minister, for my soul would not be in my work. I feel that I could, in time, become a lawyer whom my fellow-men would look upon with honor. I believe that I could some day do great service to the community in making laws that would go a great way in hunting down criminals and stamping out crime. An inward monitor tells me that is my mission in life."

"Marcia, it is best to let the boy take his own head," said the old gentleman. "If he insists on studying law, we shall have to let it go at that."

"He seems to have such a mania for hunting down criminals that it seems to me he should have studied to be a detective instead of a lawyer," declared his wife, looking at James over the rims of her gold glasses. And she went on, slowly: "Like yourself, the dream of my life was to see him a Methodist minister; but old people, like you and me, live to learn that it is never wise to build up hopes on our children, for we seldom realize them. They are like the down of the thistle flying off here and there where fancy will. Let James follow his own bent; it is useless to choose a vocation for him that he does not fancy."

So James Van Driscoll studied law, and was admitted to the bar. Dame Fortune bestowed her gifts upon him with a lavish hand. His very first case turned out to be a celebrated one. His keen wit, subtle satire, and brilliant rhetoric startled the people, and he made his way rapidly toward the front of his profession.

The crowning triumph of his life came when he was elected district attorney by a large majority. And when he took his oath that he would do his duty by the community, the people felt relieved. His wealth was so great he could not be bribed to shut his eyes on wrongdoing when he should bring it to light and prosecute it.

Criminals trembled and muttered maledictions against him, for he was known to be their deadliest foe. He showed them no mercy. Hundreds of them left New York, drifting to other places, rather than be caught in his vicinity and be ground in the wheels of justice by his relentless hand.

Old Mr. Van Driscoll and his wife lived to see the lad in whom they had such great pride become famous. Then they died, leaving him all their vast wealth, aggregating to something like two millions of money. In the will he made this proviso: If his grandson James should die unwedded, he would will all of the possessions which had been left him to the Methodist church he had loved so well; if he married he would still leave a liberal donation to it when the time came for him to give up this world's goods.

The brilliant young district attorney was considered an excellent match by mammas who had daughters to marry off well. In vain they gave little affairs, and sent him cards, and gave their husbands, brothers, and sons no peace until they formed his acquaintance and invited him home to dinner. He was so wary a fish that he eluded all baits; no one could land him. He refused an invitation courteously but peremptorily.

He had no eyes for anything but law-books, until one day, quite by accident, he met Gertrude Hamilton.

It had happened in this way. Some months before, just as he was about to step upon an up-town car, a young man, rather the worse for wine was attempting to cross to the opposite pavement. He missed his footing. In a trice he would have been lying ground to atoms beneath the swiftly revolving wheels had not a strong arm suddenly reached forward and, with the power of Samson, flung him bodily back. This quick action saved the young man's life. Van Driscoll let the car pass on. Who shall say that it was not fate which prompted him to take the dazed young man's arm and lead him home, when he discovered it was but a few blocks away?

The following day Mr. Hamilton, accompanied by his daughter, came to thank him for the great service he had rendered them. After Van Driscoll's glance first met the tearful eyes of Miss Gertrude, life was never afterward the same again; something seemed to awake in his heart; he, who had been so indifferent to womankind, found himself dreaming night and day of a proud, sweet face and a pair of blue eyes drowned in tears. His face flushed when Mr. Hamilton asked him to call, and the invitation was seconded by Miss Gertrude's sweet, persuasive "we should be pleased to have you come."

It has always been said, "the right one" needs no coaxing to bring him to the side of the one Heaven has intended for him.

This case proved no exception. He accepted their invitation with an eagerness that would have puzzled them had they known him well. And in the months that followed he lost no opportunity of visiting Mr. Hamilton's home whenever an occasion presented itself, and if he caught but a glimpse of Gertrude he was content. He even endured the presence of Richard, the scapegrace brother, for his sister's sake. Dick saw at once how affairs were drifting. Van Driscoll was getting more deeply in love with his sister Gertrude day by day, and proceeded to make capital out of his knowledge by calling upon him now and then for little loans of money, the demands growing more frequent and the sums larger from time to time. Van Driscoll, usually so stern and inflexible, could not say "no" to the brother of the woman he loved.

As Van Driscoll sat by the window watching the storm, he wondered what the morrow would bring for him—whether joy or sorrow, happiness or a life-long weary regret.

He looked a little pale and careworn as he entered his office the next morning. His clerk looked at him anxiously for a moment, then turned his gaze thoughtfully out of the window, ruminating sadly:—

"Something is troubling Mr. Van Driscoll greatly of late. He is hardly the same man; he is actually nervous and absent-minded. I wonder if he is brooding over the bitter curse Jessie Carr, the old photographer's daughter, hurled at him when she left this office just before the trial: 'If you send my innocent father to prison, Heaven will send some terrible curse upon you. Every joy will turn to Dead Sea fruit on your lips. Remember my words, and in the hour when it comes to you, think of my father—and me.'"

(To be continued.)

ENOUGH SAID.

Paterfamilias Was No Good Thing and Made His Son Realize It.

There lives upon Warren avenue west a certain young man who is given rather too much to "charging." That is to say, he has formed the habit of going into the shops down town and buying anything that may please his fancy and having the article "charged" to his father. The pater is wealthy and entirely responsible for any debts that his son might contract, but there was a time when he was poor, and he feels that it will do his boy no good for him to know that everything he sees he may have, even though the money is at hand the first of the month to pay the bills.

Haberdashery in particular has an overwhelming fascination for the boy, and hardly a day passes that he does not make a purchase of a scarf or a new pair of golf hose or a negligee shirt. He goes into the shops where he is known—and they all know him—and, buying what he wants, simply says, "Charge it." And forthwith is the article "charged." The father, too, is given to purchasing neat neckwear in abundance, but he has asked the merchants to keep his and his son's bills separate that he may know exactly what he is paying for; hence when the boy buys an article and requests that it be "charged" it is entered on the books, "To one necktie, per son."

Day before yesterday there came in paterfamilias' mail a statement from a down town clothier in which articles in the sum of $30 were charged "per son."

The boy was in the office when the governor opened the bill. The old man's eyes scanned the amount and his lips puckered into a whistle. He turned to the youth and said: "Charley, what do you think of this? Here some person has been buying $30 worth of neckties and having them charged to me. Now I'll bet I shall put a stop to that. I shall write a note and have it inserted in every paper in town to the effect that I shall be responsible for no debts contracted by this person. But I guess, come to think of it, I'll wait a month and see if he keeps it up."

Charley said, "Isn't it strange?" But, just the same, when he left the office he muttered to himself: "That settles it. Have to cut out that dozen of striped shirts now, until I've saved up enough out of my allowance to pay for 'em."—Detroit Free Press.

Heavily Weighted.

So many poems on "the flag" From writers true and brave, It really is a wonder That the flag's still on the wave! —Atlanta Constitution.

THE DREYFUS AFFAIR

FACTS ON WHICH ALL ITS DETAILS MUST NECESSARILY BE BASED.

Seven Paragraphs Which Sum Up the Whole Matter—Noble Work Done for the Imprisoned French Captain by His Devoted Wife, Col. Picquart and the World-Known Novelist Zola.

Much has been said of late about the Dreyfus affair which is not only interesting to Frenchmen but the world at large. No other subject of the day is perhaps quite as fascinating, either. It illustrates clearly the peculiar conditions existing in the French Republic and demonstrates that up to a few weeks ago the army and not the civil laws governed the people of France.

The facts to which all the details in this celebrated case must be fastened have thus been summarized from the original document:—

"1. Capt. Albert Dreyfus of the French army was in 1894, by a secret court-martial, convicted of treason to France. He was condemned on a single document—a bordereau or memorandum of French military secrets of no importance or value, alleged by one of the subordinates of Col. Paty du Clam to have been found in the wastebasket of the German Ambassador.

"2. This memorandum was, the army's experts contend, in a handwriting identical in all essential points with the handwriting of Dreyfus. The opposition experts contend that it was in the handwriting of Major Esterhazy, a French military spy.

"3. To influence the court-martial two secret documents were laid before them, but not shown to Dreyfus or his counsel. These were two letters written by the military attaché of the Italian Embassy at Paris and referring to French secrets sold by a French spy, 'D.' The army now admits that one of these letters referred to another person and not to Dreyfus, and both the Italian attaché and the German attaché, to whom he wrote, have pledged themselves convincingly that neither letter referred to Dreyfus, and that they had no dealings whatever with him.

"4. In 1896, two years after Dreyfus' condemnation and when the agitation for a retrial began in earnest, Col. Henry, who had just become the head of the intelligence bureau, forged a letter purporting to be a third in the Italian attaché's series. In this forged letter Dreyfus' name occurred in full. This forged letter was put forward as the conclusive proof that Dreyfus was guilty. Confronted recently with a charge of forgery, Col. Henry killed himself, and it is accepted that 'suicide is confession.'

CAPTAIN ALBERT DREYFUS.

"5. When Paty du Clam was promoted in 1894 for catching and convicting Dreyfus, Col. Picquart became the head of the intelligence bureau. He was dismissed for collecting proofs that showed or tended to show that the bordereau was in the handwriting of the French spy Esterhazy, and that Esterhazy had sold French secrets to the Germans and the Italians both before and after Dreyfus was arrested and imprisoned.

"6. The explanation put forward by the army and the government for Esterhazy's published letters denouncing France and for his selling secrets is that he did it in the regular course of his business, the better to get hold of the secrets of other governments. The explanation of the resemblance of the handwriting of the bordereau to Esterhazy's handwriting is that Dreyfus, knowing Esterhazy's business, imitated his handwriting the better to conceal himself.

"7. The army and the government have alleged from the first that there is other evidence against Dreyfus, which can in no circumstances be disclosed for 'grave reasons of State.' They allege that these reasons are so grave that any act to suppress the Dreyfus agitation would be justifiable. On the other hand, the friends of Dreyfus allege that these so-called 'grave reasons of State' are merely the cover for a clique of disreputable army officers and their dupes who have been conspiring, not against France directly, but first against the Hebrews in the army, and latterly to defend themselves from exposure and disgrace."

Col. Henry's suicide forced the Cabinet to take action, and a revision of the case was agreed upon. This led M. Cavaignac, the Minister of War, to hand in his resignation, this official being in his own mind firmly convinced of Dreyfus' guilt. President Faure then personally requested Gen. Zurlinden, military governor of Paris, to accept the war portfolio, and succeeded in gaining his consent. He, too, has since resigned and given place to Gen. Chanoiné. This means that when Dreyfus returns from Devil's Island, off the coast of French Guiana, where he has been confined in an iron cage for more than three years, he will receive a fair trial, for the new Minister of War is in favor of revision. The latest development is that Col. Esterhazy has confessed that 600 of the 1,000 documents used against Dreyfus were forged.

Should Capt. Dreyfus eventually secure his freedom and be again invested with the uniform and sword of which, by order of the court-martial, a French sergeant divested him, he will have to thank his charming and beautiful wife, Lucie Eugenie, for the consummation.

Soon after his arrival at his place of exile he wrote to Mme. Dreyfus, "I rely upon you to solve this horrible mystery." Then this faithful wife, who had offered to share her husband's awful fate and was prevented doing so by the French Government, set to work to free the Captain, or at least to secure for him a new trial. She went to Berlin and flung herself at the feet of the Emperor. One word from him, she pleaded, would release her husband. "Say," she prayed, "that the German Embassy received no information from Capt. Dreyfus." The Emperor said the word she asked for, but it was of no avail. Next she visited the Emperor of Russia, who took a keen interest in the case and did what he could to help the pleading wife. Next the Pope was drawn into the affair, and also the Queen Regent of Spain. All of these eminent persons used their influence to secure a re-opening of the case, but with no success. Still the work which Mme. Dreyfus did was bearing good fruit. The newspapers continued to fight about

MME. LUCIE EUGENIE DREYFUS.

Dreyfus. Zola and Max Nordau took up their pens and wrote with gall about some of the big people in Paris. Count Esterhazy was tried on a charge similar to that on which Dreyfus was convicted, and although not found guilty, the fact was all in favor of Mme. Dreyfus' campaign. Then, Col. Picquart, a friend of the Dreyfuses, fought a duel with Col. Henry, and then came the last chapter of Henry's confession and suicide. Capt. Dreyfus did well to rely on his wife to solve the truly horrible mystery, and that she will certainly succeed in liberating her husband or vindicating his memory if he should die there can be no doubt whatever. Mme. Dreyfus makes this declaration: "I am convinced of my husband's absolute innocence and mean to prove it. Jehovah, God or Providence will ere long crush his enemies and restore him to me." This prediction certainly seems about to be fulfilled. Mme. Dreyfus is still a beautiful woman notwithstanding the trying time she has passed through and the great grief she has felt.

Zola's interest in the case will go into history as one of its most interesting features. The great novelist, in an open letter, accused a number of army officers of having conspired to convict Dreyfus to shield themselves. He was arrested, tried and sentenced to a year in prison, and fled from France. The peroration of the speech which he delivered at his trial was thrillingly eloquent, especially when he said:—

"If Dreyfus be not innocent, let my name perish. If he be not innocent, let my works perish. By all I have done for the literature of the country, by all I am to hope for, I swear that he is innocent."

A Newspaper "Beat."

Walter Russell contributes an article entitled "Incidents of the Cuban Blockade" to the Century. Mr. Russell says:—

My time while on the blockade, serving as a special artist, was about equally divided between the various warships and a small steam-yacht the duty of which was to divine intuitively when and where something was to occur, and be there to witness it. Our little crew of four constituted a strategy board in itself. We were, indeed, war prophets. More than once wisdom in our reasoning brought us our reward. More than once we were alone in our glory, the only despatch-boat on the spot.

A sailor boy had asked me to bring him from Key West fifty boxes of cigarettes for some of the crew; and one morning I threw the bundle upon the deck of his ship. Tearing off the cover, he scrawled the words, "Thanks! Hope to meet you twenty-two miles to the eastward at noon," and sealed the bit of pasteboard to me.

A correspondent who by common consent was chairman of our strategy board was on board the ship at that time, and obtained another slight clue.

So we headed eastward from Havana, while the blockading fleet lay basking serenely in the sun. So also did many despatch boats. At noon my sailor friend and his ship were there. Shortly after noon there was an engagement—the first of the war—and there was no other despatch boat near. Next morning New Yorkers were informed that despatch boats were as numerous there as pickets in a fence. Every newspaper had a dozen. The incident was witnessed by only one artist beside the writer; yet I have since seen a double-page color supplement of that battle in a weekly periodical, where, under the artist's name, was printed the claim that it was sketched from our yacht.

Demand for Chamolais Gloves.

A demand is already being made for chamolais gloves. The merchants say the call for them is an unusually early one.

QU'APPELLE PROGRESS.
QU'APPELLE, N. W. T.
DOMINION DISPLAY.
CANADA'S RESOURCES EXTENSIVELY
SHOWN AT OMAHA.

This Country Has the Largest Exhibit in the International Hall at the Trans-Mississippi Exhibition—A Combination Show of Our Chief Products of the Farm and the Mine.

In the International Hall at the Trans-Mississippi Exposition the largest exhibit is that of the Dominion of Canada. It occupies 5,000 feet of floor space and 6,000 feet of wall space, covered with the best the country can produce. It is an agricultural, mineral, forestry and dairy exhibit combined.

The location is first class, taking in the main entrance to the building. C. H. Myers, commissioner from the Dominion of Canada, is in charge, assisted by W. V. Bennett, the resident Canadian agent, and his daughter, Miss June Bennett. The exhibit is viewed by ninety per cent. of the exposition visitors, a vast proportion of whom are astonished by the great showing of the country's resources here made. Wheat that grades "No. 1 hard northern," and is produced to the amount of thirty-eight to forty-five bushels per acre all through the Dominion is the principal agricultural product shown. Commissioner Myers says the Dominion can supply the breadstuffs for all of the nations of the earth. Not only wheat, but oats, barley, rye, corn and all of the cereals known to the United States, says the Exposition Press Bureau, grow and flourish in every locality, yielding abundantly. The corn is as large as that grown further south; the small grain has a lighter color, the berry being more plump and larger.

The dairy business of Canada has grown with great rapidity during the past few years. Last year's shipment of butter to Great Britain aggregated 12,000,000 pounds, valued at $2,900,000. Along with the butter goes the cheese, which last year amounted to 165,000,000 pounds, valued at $15,000,000. Honey and maple sugar are two other staple products of Canada shown in the exhibit.

The lumber industry of the Dominion has assumed great proportions since the destruction of the forests of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, and much of the material used in the United States is from the country to the north. The lumber exhibit is interesting as well as instructive, both on account of the numerous samples and the character of the exhibits. There are some oak, pine, poplar, birch, hickory, walnut, maple, cedar, and a score of other varieties of the woods of the forest. One of the most interesting is a slab cut from a log of hard pine. It is six feet across and Mr. Myers vouches for the statement that the tree from which this plank came measured 150 feet to the first limb. In addition to this, he declares that there are millions of acres of pine forests in the north of the Dominion that have never been visited by the chopper.

A great showing of apples, pears, plums and other fruits is also made. In grasses there is no end to the display. There are all of the varieties grown in the United States, both tame and wild, and the assertion is made that some of them produce as high as three tons per acre.

In the center of the court is the mineral display. Three large cases are filled with rich specimens of gold, silver, copper, lead, zinc, tin, iron and other metals from the gray sulphates to the most beautiful and delicate forms of crystallizations. A number of photographs of mining scenes from British Columbia and other camps are also shown.

The enclosure contains a number of comfortable seats where visitors are invited to rest themselves. A large register is open to visitors and is being rapidly filled up. The low railroad rates now in force make it possible for many Canadians to visit the Omaha Exposition.

AN ANCIENT BICYCLE.
Rude Representation Found in a Church Window at Stoke Pogis, England.

Wheelmen have for some time confidently supposed that the earliest form of the bicycle came into occasional use not much more than a century ago; that the "centric" was invented in 1810, and the "velocipede" of the high wheeled type devised in France about 1810. Some of these theories will have to be abandoned. In a church window in Stoke Pogis, England, there has been discovered a rude representation in stained glass of a bicycle of the primitive sort. The panel bears the date of 1642.

This bicycle is not exactly a high gear "velocipede" machine. It is in effect a bar connecting two low wheels. The rider sits on the bar and propels the wheel by kicking the earth backward with his feet. In front a curved horn projects, by which the wheel can be easily steered.

For nearly 200 years not much improvement was made upon the Stoke Pogis wheel. The bicycles satirized in the old cartoons were all of the "kick behind" pattern. It was not until well within this century that the bicyclist's feet were taken off the ground.

CURTAIN RAISERS.

Clara Thropp is to star next season in an operatic comedy entitled "Where's Matilda?" by Leopold Jordan.

Henrietta Crossman will star next season with Charles Dickson in "Mistakes Will Happen," a comedy by Mr. Grant Stuart.

Tim Murphy will shortly begin preparations for the production of "The Carpet-bagger," a new comedy by Opie Read and Frank S. Pixley.

Another English band is to visit America next winter. This is the band attached to the Honorable Artillery company, of which the Prince of Wales is colonel.

Paul Gilmore will produce "The Dawn of Freedom," a naval and military spectacle with scenes laid in Cuba, at the Fourteenth Street theater, New York, on Sept. 19.

William Morris, formerly leading man of the Empire theater stock company, New York, has been engaged to play Gil de Berault in a special "Under the Red Robe" company.

Roland Reed has two new farces for next season—"A Distinguished Guest," adapted from the German by Sydney Rosenfeld, and an unnamed comedy by Madeline Lucette Ryley.

Mrs. Annie T. Conlon, widow of the famous actor, Billy Florence, has filed her certificate of the settlement of the estate with the register of wills at Washington, placing its value at $69,690.

The company engaged to present "Casey's Wife," Robert J. Donnelly's new play, includes Mark Murphy, J. P. Sullivan, Gus Yorke, Nick Adams, Jennie Reifarth, Allie Gilbert, May Donohue and Maym Kelso.

HUMAN NATURE.

There are too many people who use their friends as coaling stations.

When you call on any one and he says, "Hello, where did you come from?" he is not glad to see you.

A man should always be supplied with just enough work and trouble to keep his mind off the pimple on his nose.

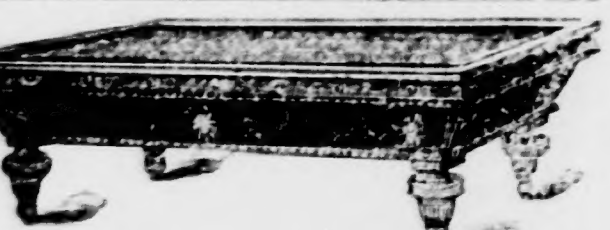

As people get along in years the recollection of the price paid remains with them longer than the recollection of the good time.

Don't forget that worry kills as surely as consumption. The only difference is that you can break yourself of the worry habit.

It is very creditable in so many women in the United States taking up Red Cross work. The costume isn't becoming to any one over 16.

Every one must do just so much weeping. Those who are spanked oftenest when young have least cause for crying when grown up.

It was announced recently that a former lover of an Atchison girl had married in another town. The next day 15 of her friends called on her to see "how she was taking it." Her enemies left her alone.—Atchison Globe.

BILLIARD AND POOL TABLES.
NEW AND SECOND-HAND.
BOWLING ALLEYS
AND SUPPLIES. Large catalogue free.
THE REID BROS., 27 King West, Toronto.

ECONOMY IS THE ROAD TO WEALTH

and true economy consists in buying the best for the least money.

WHITE STAR
BAKING POWDER

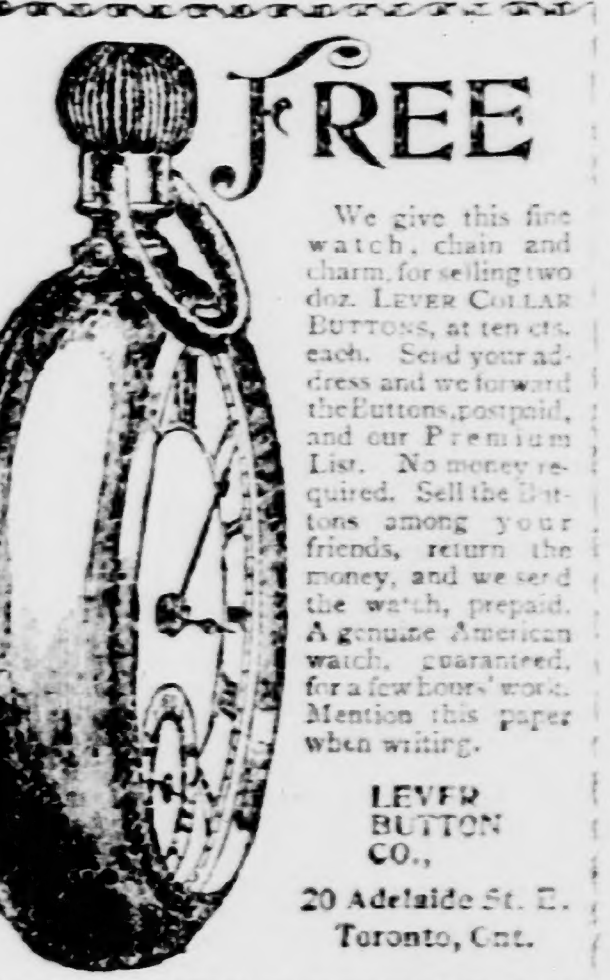

is without a peer in its line.

WHITE STAR
HEALTH COFFEY

is a healthful, invigorating drink of excellent flavor.

.... TRY IT.

The Dyson Gibson Co.

20 Adelaide St. E., Toronto, Ont.

Raw
From Ear
To Jaw.

"I have been for years more or less subject to eruptions on my skin. The left side of my face from the top of my ear to half way down my jaw was in a very bad state—being almost raw, making shaving very painful. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters. One bottle perfectly cured me. I can honestly recommend B.B.B. to all who suffer from any skin disease." G. WHITE, Carle-ville, N.W.T.

B.B.B. cures Salt Rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Shingles, Boils, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers, and all forms of Skin Diseases and Eruptions, from the smallest pimple to the worst scrofulous sore.

THE TATTLER.

Miss Edna Crouse, who has recently won three medals for her harp playing, is only 9 years old and was the youngest pupil in the Chicago Harp college when she won first prize.

Mrs. Marie Robinson Wright, whose book, "Picturesque Mexico," was pronounced by President Diaz the most instructive work on his country, will soon start on a tour of Japan.

As a general rule, Mme. Sarah Bernhardt holds that an actor or actress should retire from the stage at the age of 50, although she confesses that she has seen many who should have disappeared at the age of 25.

A collection of patch boxes and snuff-boxes is absolutely essential to the woman who desires to be up to date. Mrs. Leon Marie of New York has a number of these relics of bygone times as well as some Louis XVI ivory miniatures.

Mrs. Rachel Mott Smith, an aged woman of Wayne, Mich., is one of the oldest inhabitants of that state, where she settled about 60 years ago. Mrs. Smith, though looking down upon five generations, promises to round out the century.

Miss Felicie Oglesby, the daughter of ex-Governor Oglesby of Illinois, recently created a sensation in the camp of the First Illinois cavalry, at Camp Thomas, by riding on a vicious government mule several hands higher than the ordinary size.

Mrs. Evelyn S. Tome of Elkton, Md., enjoys the distinction of being the only woman in the land who is president of two national banks. Several days ago she was elected to the presidency of the National Bank of Elkton, and for several months she has been president of the Cecil National Bank of Port Deposit.

Mother Bickerdyle's eighty-first birthday was recently celebrated by many veterans of the civil war. The famous old nurse is living with her children at Bunker Hill, Kan. One of the many stories told of her is of her leaving the army on a furlough once when the sick boys were much in need of milk, going to Iowa and returning driving 20 cows.

Mrs. Ella Knowles, Haskell, the woman lawyer of Montana who can for the office of attorney general of Montana on the Populist ticket, and, failing to get it, married her successful competitor on the Republican ticket, becoming thereby the "assistant attorney general," thinks a woman murderer should receive the same punishment as a man murderer.

Miss Katharine Agnes Gulick, the young Japanese who was disowned by her adopted parents for embracing the Catholic faith, has finished her studies in Cincinnati and will appear on the stage next year. Miss Gulick is the daughter of Count Honjo and Miss Emma Tyler, who were married in Philadelphia during the Centennial.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.
Take Laxative Purgative Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure.

A FEW THINGS

That should be found in every well regulated household:

DREWRY'S
Choice Stock Ale. Extra Porter.
Canadian Pilsner Lager.
(A fine light beer.)
Golden Key Brand Aerated Water
Imperial Table Sauce, Choice Table
India Chutney. Relishes.

E. L. DREWRY,
Manufacturer & Importer,
WINNIPEG.

FOR...
BARGAINS
IN...
FARM LANDS

Call or write for my list.
Apply to
WM. HARVEY
210 Portage Ave., Cor. Main St.,
WINNIPEG.

Monsoon Tea is so absolutely wholesome and refreshing that physicians generally permit its use by invalids. No tannin to disturb digestion or affect the nerves, and no adulterants to hurt your health. Its purity is shown in the clear, sparkling infusion in the pot, the absence of foreign sediment in the cup, and the delicious "twang" which its flavor leaves in the mouth.

BOVRIL

Is a condensed food, capable of preserving physical strength

Through Any Physical Strain

And is equally valuable to those requiring to use

GREAT MENTAL STRAIN.

It has no equal for giving

Strength to the Invalid

And it will agree with the weakest stomachs. Get it from your druggist or grocer and test its value.

The...
DAILY
Globe

(REGULAR EARLY MORNING EDITION)

Canada's Greatest Newspaper,
$2.00 per Annum.

Including the 24 or 28 page SATURDAY ILLUSTRATED EDITION, will be sent to any address in Manitoba, Northwest Territories, British Columbia and all points

WEST OF NORTH BAY for
THE GLOBE, Toronto, Canada.

Agents wanted in every unrepresented district.

BABY'S OWN SOAP
There are Many imitations, They all lack the remarkable qualities of the genuine.
THE ALBERT TOILET SOAP COY.

FREE WATCH
For One Day's Work
We give this fine Watch, Chain & Charm for selling two doz. packages of Famous Toilet Perfume at ten cents each. Send address and we forward the perfume, postpaid, and our Premium List. No money required. Tell the perfume among your friends, return money, and we send the watch, prepaid. This is a genuine American Watch, guaranteed a good timepiece. Mention the paper.
Bene Specialty Co. 60 Victoria St. Toronto

CAN YOU SLEEP SOUNDLY?
Secure in doing the leading
MEN'S FURNISHING
Trade of your town. If not, handle
MYRON MCBRIDE & CO.'S
Stylish full value goods and secure contented rest.

Sun Insurance Office.
Eastern Assurance Co.
Quebec Fire Insurance Company.
London and Lancashire Life Ins. Co.
British and Foreign Marine Ins. Co.
Lloyd's Glass Insurance Company.
W. R. ALLAN,
General Agent,
Winnipeg.

HAVE YOUR FALL STOCK WELL ASSORTED WITH
BOECKH'S BRUSHES
BROOMS
AND WOODENWARE.
Manufactured by BOECKH BROS. & Co.,
Toronto, Ont.

W. N. C. 190

The Manitoba Assurance Co.
IS A HOME FIRE COMPANY.
KEEP YOUR MONEY AT HOME BY INSURING IN IT.
DIRECTORS:
Hon. HUGH JOHN MACDONALD, President.
JOHN RUSSELL, W. T. TUPPENT, A. M. PATTON, H. S. CROTTY, ROBT. HALL,
H. H. BECK, Vice President and Manager.
CROTTY & CROSS, Agents, Winnipeg.
AGENTS WANTED IN UNREPRESENTED TOWNS AND DISTRICTS.
W. L. WAIT, Agent, Qu'Appelle.

THE VEDETTE.

Vol. 1

Fort Qu'Appelle, N.W.T., Oct. 27, 1898.

No. 3

The Qu'Appelle Progress

A weekly paper devoted to local and general news: published every Thursday morning by

D. J. HARTLEY.

Large Circulation—Good Advertising Medium—First-class Job Department.

All orders by mail or otherwise executed promptly and satisfactorily.

Correspondence Solicited.

Address . . .

"THE PROGRESS,"

Qu'Appelle Stn., Assa., N.W.T.

THURSDAY, OCT. 27, 1898

OPPOSITION

An opponent to G. H. V. Bulyea has been brought out for the constituency of South Qu'Appelle, in the person of W. G. Vicars. At the time of writing no public meetings have been held and therefore there have been no means of finding out upon what grounds the opposition takes the field. Consequently we are unable to speak on the merits of such an action. It appears to us however at the present time that the opposition party are not wholly united amongst themselves, as the two following telegraphic despatches found in the Free Press would indicate:—

Qu'Appelle, N. W. T., Oct. 22—The Conservatives in convention at Indian Head on Thursday nominated W. G. Vicars, of Qu'Appelle Station, as a straight party candidate against G. H. V. Bulyea, the present member for South Qu'Appelle in the Northwest assembly.

Indian Head, Oct. 24—A Qu'Appelle Station correspondent is in error in stating in the Free Press of the 22nd inst. that the Conservatives in convention at Indian Head on Thursday last had nominated W. G. Vicars as a straight party candidate in opposition to G. H. V. Bulyea, the present member for South Qu'Appelle in the Northwest assembly. There was no convention held on that or any subsequent day, therefore Mr. Vicars could not have been the nominee of a convention which had no constitutional existence.

No one can object to an honorable opposition, and an election honestly carried out will result in an expression of the peoples wishes. As we said last week an election is a source of satisfaction, often, to many and an educative factor to all.

In this case rumor gives different reasons for the opponent's position. One of these is, "Opposition to the Executive," another, "Party Lines." We do not understand how, even a victory for either of these purposes will benefit the constituency. To exchange a member of the Executive for a private member, would be no gain to this constituency, but certainly a decided loss. An honor has been conferred upon South Qu'Appelle by her member holding such a position and if she throws away this link which will mean so much to her in the early years of her development it will no doubt be many years before she has the same opportunities again and we will have time to reflect and regret that more caution was not exercised at this time to retain such privilege.

gea, offered to us, and which must result in our particular welfare. The second reason, that of party lines we think is worn threadbare. We would not for a moment support Mr. Bulyea on a ticket of Gritism nor any opposition on a ticket of Toryism in this Territorial campaign. We do not know that Mr. Bulyea has allowed his Dominion political leanings to influence him in a single action in his position as minister of the Territorial government and to drag in personal or other party issues would be a serious mistake now and will be strongly resented by the independent thinking people of this district.

In opposing Mr. Bulyea there should be sound and valid reasons for doing so, based upon his past actions. As we said before these may be forthcoming but they have not been advocated so far. In another column will be found a statement by a correspondent, that Mr. Bulyea's work in the Klondyke and the benefit resulting from it to the Territories should alone earn him the support of the people, which we thoroughly agree with and till the opposition can furnish good grounds for their action we feel that that they have made a mistake.

We cannot in any way object to Mr. Vicars as a man. He is a gentleman well and favorably known and would no doubt act his part as a member in the House, but we cannot help knowing that he could not hold the Executive position the present member does. This should be considered, when all parts of the Territories are competing with other for the public improvements which must soon take place. Qu'Appelle and vicinity are deserving of their share and we can best secure it by retaining a member of the Executive.

We do not expect that every person will think the same about the matter as the PROGRESS; there will be differences, but in this enlightened age we hope there will be no hard feeling result from it. We will not be offended if you differ from us; we do not ask you to vote as we think. Consider the issues at stake, the grounds taken by the candidates and then vote as your judgment dictates is the advice of the PROGRESS to one and all.

The following is a paragraph taken from the election address of Mr. Vicars,—"In consenting to accept the nomination, I am forced by the action of my opponent in this contest to declare myself a conservative, and my intention to conduct the campaign on strict party lines." We will hope to learn before long the actions of his opponent which forced Mr. Vicars to this course. The Indian Head Vidette, which is strongly supporting Mr. Vicars candidature, says editorially yesterday that it is a Grit lie that Mr. Vicars is brought out as a Conservative. We don't know whether the Vidette means that a Grit liar prepared Mr. Vicars address for him or not. If such is the case we think the grits ought to be ashamed of themselves for imposing upon the good nature of their opponents and muddling matters so that a Philadelphia lawyer can't make head or tail of it.

To the Electors of the Electoral District of North Qu'Appelle.

GENTLEMEN,—The Legislature, having been dissolved, you will again be called upon to select a representative. Two years ago you were good enough to elect me as your representative, for the then unexpired term. I trust my actions during the term I have held the seat, have met with your approval.

I shall if elected to represent you again, endeavor to carry out and support to the best of my ability, the platform I then placed before you.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
DONALD H. McDONALD
Fort Qu'Appelle,
21st Oct., 1898

MEAT STORE

We do a general butcher business in all its departments.

Salt and Fresh meat Best quality: always on hand. Prices right!

J. R. NORTH

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE NORTH-WEST TERRITORIES, Judicial District of Western Assiniboia, IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF ERNEST WILLIAM BRINE, deceased.

Pursuant to the order of the Hon. Mr. Justice Richardson, dated the 17th day of October, 1898: TAKE NOTICE that each creditor of the above estate is required to send in to the undersigned, on or before the 19th day of December, 1898, his claim against the said estate, together with statement of security, if any, held by him.

And take notice that each claim is required to be verified by statutory declaration, stating therein whether such creditor holds any security for his claim or any part thereof; and giving full particulars of the same, and if such security is on the estate of the said deceased or on the estate of a third party for whom said deceased is only secondarily liable, he shall put a specified value thereon.

Dated at Regina, this 17th day of October, 1898.

NORMAN MACKENZIE,
Public Administrator.

Notice to Stock-Raisers.

Arrangements have been made by this department whereby stock-raisers and farmers in the Territories can import under Government supervision, thoroughly bred cattle purchased from breeders in Ontario, at a uniform cost of Five dollars per head for transportation to nearest railroad points, including care on journey.

Particulars as to conditions under which such importation will be made, may be obtained by applying to the undersigned.

By order
Chas. W. Peterson
Deputy Commissioner
Dep't Agriculture, Regina, N.W.T.

A full stock of

Boots and Shoes

Harness, Blankets, Robes, Valises, Trunks, etc.

Flour and Feed,
Fresh and Salt Meat.

GEO. AMBLER.

A. E. IREDALE & CO.

Fort Qu'Appelle, Assa.

Fall and Winter Goods to hand

This week we have just opened up a large consignment, consisting of General Dry Goods, Gents' Underwear, Clothing, etc.

We also have a most complete stock of Men, Women and Children's Rubbers and Overshoes in all styles and at prices to suit the times.

Parties wishing to purchase any of the above lines will do well to inspect our goods before buying elsewhere. No trouble to show goods.

A. E. IREDALE & CO.

HENRY H. HAYWARD,

General Merchant, Company Ave., Fort Qu'Appelle.

The attention of residents in Fort Qu'Appelle and its vicinity is respectfully called to the large and varied stock now on hand, consisting of

DRESS GOODS

In all styles and shades—Ladies under and over skirts, Golf Jerseys, Skirtings, Underwear, etc.

GENT'S

Heavy Underwear. Shirts in all sizes and weights.

CLOTHING

Ready-made for Men, Youths' and Boys' suitable for the season and all prices.

FURS

Hats, Caps, Overcoats, etc.

FOOTWEAR

All sorts and sizes of Boots and Shoes in leather and felt goods

MITTS and MOCCASINS

See our Boys' Buckskin Mitts—a specialty.

GROCERIES

Fresh and clean every week. Tinned goods of all descriptions, including C. & B's celebrated brands.

MEATS

Tinned in all lines. The best dry salt meats procurable. Sugar cured Hams and Breakfast Bacon highly recommended.

TEAS

Headquarters for the following choice lines of package teas—Lipton's, Kam Lai's, Salsada and Blue Ribbon. Bulk Japan, Congoes, Pekoes. Crockery and Glassware, Silverware, Xmas Goods. 1 carload of fresh Groceries from the east; 1 carload of Salt in bbls, and bags. Green winter apples by the bbl. Prices greatly reduced. Call and examine for yourselves.

Qu'Appelle Valley Hotel THE ONLY LICENSED HOUSE AT FORT QU'APPELLE.

A full line of the choicest brands of Wines, Liquors, Ales, etc., is kept at the bar for the convenience of the public and visitors.

Parties seeking HEALTH OR RECREATION find the QU'APPELLE LAKES just the locality to meet their requirements, as well as a SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE.

ROBERT S. SMITH, Prop., Fort Qu'Appelle, N.W.T.

C. FETHERSTONHAUGH,

LIVERY STABLES

QU'APPELLE STATION and FORT QU'APPELLE

Daily Stage between Fort Qu'Appelle and Qu'Appelle Station.

First class rigs and horses. Careful drivers.

Stage leaves Qu'Appelle Station at 8 a.m., and the Fort at 2.30

FOR SALE.

FIVE HEAVY FARM HORSES for sale. Apply to R. Johnston, Qu'Appelle Stn.

WANTED

WANTED—Two girls, one chambermaid and one good kitchen girl. Leland House, Qu'Appelle Stn.

LOCAL NEWS

Read the advertisements of the Fort Qu'Appelle business people.

Rev. T. Wells Johnson and Mrs. Johnson visited Katepwe on Sunday.

Mr. J. A. McDonald left for Touchwood Hills on Tuesday morning.

Miss Brodie, who has been visiting friends at Indian Head for several weeks, returned on Tuesday morning.

A meeting in connection with the curling club was held in the Qu'Appelle Valley Hotel on Monday last.

Mr. A. E. Iredale returned from a shooting expedition on Thursday last. We are told the party with which he went enjoyed capital sport.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. Archibald McDonald, who has been feeling unwell for some days, is getting better now.

The proceeds of the sale of work in connection with the Ladies' Guild of St. John's church, amounted to over $80.

James Orniston, who had his arm broken a week ago, is progressing satisfactorily under the careful treatment of Dr. Hall.

Mr. D. H. McDonald, M.L.A., will address his constituents in the town hall on Friday next, at 2 p.m.

Messrs. Fetherstonhaugh and Baker are doing a roaring trade in the furniture business lately. They are deserving of considerable praise for their enterprise.

The members of the L.O.L. held their monthly meeting on Monday night, and we are given to understand Edgar Harrington was duly instituted a member of the society.

Mr. L. A. Ferguson, general agent of the Great West Life Insurance Co., is in town. He is looking as well as ever and is doing a considerable amount of business.

The Hudson Bay here have opened a branch store at Yorkton. It was opened at the time of the fall fair. Mr. A. McDonald, of this place, was there at the time.

Mr. D. H. McDonald returned Thursday night from a long trip in the northern part of his constituency, visiting Touchwood Hills, Wishart and Fishing Lakes.

We are exceedingly sorry to hear that Hugh Lyons Cargo, of Wide Awake, met with an accident on Thursday last while threshing. We hope he will soon be quite well again.

Mr. J. D. McEara, editor of The Vidette, Indian Head, and Mr. Finlay McKay, of Wide Awake, were in town on Friday. They were judges of roots and garden produce at the agricultural show.

Mrs. W. B. Hall, of Headingly, went to Qu'Appelle last week to pay a visit. It is so seldom Mrs. Hall leaves home we must wish her every pleasure and hope she will soon return to Headingly.—Saturday Telegram, Wpg.

Mr. Atkinson, evangelist, occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Sunday last. He also conducted services at Springbrook and Wide Awake. Mr. Atkinson is a very acceptable preacher and will be in charge of this mission till the appointment of a resident minister is made.

On Monday last the body of John Watson, of Watson Settlement, was laid to rest in the Fort Qu'Appelle cemetery. The funeral was largely attended by the townspeople and others from the adjoining settlements. The Rev. Alex. Robson, Indian Head, conducted the ceremony. The bereaved family have our deepest sympathy in this their sad hour of trial.

Grain Show.

The fourteenth annual grain show and exhibition of dairy and domestic manufactures, roots, garden produce, and ladies' work, was held in the town hall on Friday last.

The weather was all that could be desired, and the attendance, considering the busy season of the year, was as good as could be expected.

The exhibits, although not as numerous as could be desired, were of first class quality and fully maintained the reputation the district has obtained in the past for the excellence of its products.

The grain, bread, roots and dairy exhibits are worthy of special mention, as they were, in the opinion of the judges, the best they had ever seen.

At one o'clock the hall was opened to the public.

The complete list of prize-winners will appear next week.

FARMERS' RE-UNION.

The farmers' reunion held in the town hall on the night of the 21st was a great success. The programme was prepared by J. Anderson, and the musical part was attended to by Messrs. Barford and Murphy. Several friends were present from Indian Head, Regina, Wide Awake, Balcarres and Springbrook. Dancing was kept up till a late hour.

E. B. ROBINSON

VETERINARY SURGEON.

All calls promptly attended to.

Office: - Fort Qu'Appelle, Assa.

WM. JOHNSTON,

Headquarters for

Hardware, Cutlery, STOVES

and everything in the Tin and Graniteware line.

Call and see my new get-up of

Lanterns

Nothing to beat it on the market.

OFFICIAL TIME WASHBURN'S MILL

SUPPORT HOME INDUSTRY

Qu'Appelle Valley Flour Mills,

Fort Qu'Appelle. (Established 1834.)

GRISTING—

Bran, Shorts, Chop, Chopped Feed.

FLOUR—

Harzarian Patent, Strong Bake Graham.

Chopper for grinding feed stuff.

Full supply always on hand at CREAMER & GRAY'S QU'APPELLE STATION.

JOYNER & ELKINGTON, Proprietors.

City Meat Emporium!

Your

Attention

Please!

D. BROWN,

Wholesale and Retail Butcher

Highest market price given for Prime Cattle, Sheep, Hogs and Poultry.

A choice stock of mild cured smoked meats, comprising, hams, shoulders, spiced rols, breakfast bacon, Bologna and pure leaf lard always on hand. Our pork sausages—they are a treat. Fresh salmon (from B. C.) a specialty.

Our motto: "Quality, Cleanliness and Civility."

All orders receive prompt attention.

Call and see us.

Main Street, Qu'Appelle Str.

Hudson's Bay Company,

Fort Qu'Appelle.

FOR FALL and WINTER

Ladies' Jackets, Flannelette Blouses and Wrappers, Shawls, Underwear & Footwear

Don't miss a chance of securing a nice, cheap fall hat—they are selling fast.

Gents Fur Coats and Caps

at all prices

Don't forget that we carry full lines of General Hardware, Nails, Bucksaws, Oil, Oil Cans, etc.

T. COWAN.

GENERAL BLACKSMITH.

Horseshoeing and all Repairing done on shortest notice. Satisfaction guaranteed.

QU'APPELLE STATION, Assa.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The North-West Lands of the Estate of the late W. R. THISTLE, comprising

4,000 ACRES

Of Valuable Improved

FARM PROPERTY

ARE NOW OFFERED FOR SALE ON

Most Reasonable Terms.

For full particulars apply to

A. D. DICKSON, BARRISTER,

QU'APPELLE

D. H. McDonald & Co.

Bankers and Insurance Agts. Fort Qu'Appelle

Money to loan.

Notes discounted.

Advances on Wheat.

Collections made.

Exchange bought.

Money transferred to and from Great Britain.

Correspondents. London, Eng.: Lloyd Bank. Bankers: Imperial Bank of Canada, Win.

Farm for Sale.

W. Half Sec. 28, Tp. 19, Rge. 16

25 acres ready for crop; small frame and log house on premises. Easy terms.

All Sec. 17, Tp. 20, R. 16, west 2nd merid. NE 1/4 14, Tp. 17, R. 16, w. 2nd merid.

Agents for sale of H. B. Co., C. P. R., Ont. & Qu'Appelle Land Co., and Canada Northwest Land Co.'s lands.

D. H. McDonald & Co.,

FORT QU'APPELLE, N.W.T. 241

Better late than Never!

But we are to the front now with:

LACES, LEATHER—Sole, upper, Belt lacing the best in the market, Shoe thread, State straps, wholesale or retail, Russell Calt Leather, Cork soles, Leather and rubber cement.

Frank Miller's Leather Preserver, for shoes or harness. Makes the leather as soft as a glove. Gilt Edge Shoe Dressing. Awns, knives, rivets, nails, etc., always on hand.

Boots and Shoes still repaired.

G. M. BAILEY,

Qu'Appelle Station

JUST OPENED

A GENERAL BUTCHER BUSINESS

ALWAYS ON HAND: Fresh and Salt Meats, Beef, Pork, Mutton, Etc.

FARMERS

The Highest Cash Price paid for Good Beef Cattle, Pigs, Sheep, etc.

I am here to STAY A share of your patronage solicited

GEO. AMBLER,

Main Street, Qu'Appelle Station

"She Carries Her Heart on Her Sleeve"

What a boon to many a man or woman if this were literally so—How many spirits are broken because this particular organ is shackled by disease—and yet how many times has Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart brushed against the grim reaper and robbed him of his victim.

Diseases of the heart are by far the most treacherous of ailments which afflict humanity—ruthless to old and young alike—not insidious but violent, for when the heart fails the whole system suffers violence. Discussing causes here will not console the suffering one. The one great yearning of the heart-sickened patient is how to get relief and a cure. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart stands pre-eminently to-day as the star of hope to sufferers from heart trouble, and so far past the experimental period that thousands to-day proclaim in no uncertain sound, the belief that were it not for this great remedy they would have long ago passed into the great beyond.

Most eminent doctors, whom heart cases have baffled, have tested Dr. Agnew's claims, and to-day they prescribe it in their practice as the quickest and safest heart remedy known to medical science. What are the symptoms? Palpitation, fluttering, shortness of breath, weak and irregular pulse, swelling of feet and ankles, pain in the left side, chilly sensations, fainting spells, uneasiness in sleeping, dropsical tendency and as many more indications that the heart is deranged. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is a heart specific; and no case too acute to find relief from it inside of thirty minutes—a powerful cure.

Mrs. Jno. Fitzpatrick, of Gananoque, Ont., after having been treated by eminent physicians for heart disease of five years' standing, was discharged from the hospital as a hopeless incurable. She suffered from acute pain and palpitation, her feet and ankles swollen, and there was every tendency to the dropsical form of heart disease, but the lady procured Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart as she declared, as a last hope. One dose relieved her of a very acute spasm in less than thirty minutes, and three bottles cured her—not a symptom of the trouble remaining.

Conductor William G. Lucas, of the N. & W.R.R., and living at Hagarstown, Md., suffered for years with acute valvular form of heart disease—cost him many a "lay off" from his daily duties on the road, and he spent a small fortune in remedies and treating with heart specialists in promise of a cure, and all ended in disappointment, until a good friend, who had been benefited, recommended Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. He tried it, and found it gave him relief and comfort almost immediately. He continued its use until a few bottles were taken, and to-day he is well and strong, and says, "Tell all heart sufferers that I can highly recommend this great remedy."

DR. AGNEW'S OINTMENT cures eczema, salt rheum, tetter, scald head and all itching skin diseases—cures piles in three to five nights. 35 cents.
DR. AGNEW'S CATARRHAL POWDER relieves cold in the head or hay fever in ten minutes—will cure most stubborn and long standing catarrh cases quickly and permanently.
DR. AGNEW'S LIVER PILLS cure constipation, biliousness, sick headache, torpid liver—clear the skin. 40 doses. 25 cents.

For Sale by F. E. Parker

ANOTHER BLUEBOOK.

LORD SALISBURY'S FIRMNESS AND DETERMINATION.

Baron De Courcel Arrives in London With a Message to Lord Salisbury—France Will Evacuate.

London, Oct. 24.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Chronicle claims to have authority to say that a decision has already been taken by the French government speedily to evacuate Fashoda, and that M. Delcasse, the French foreign minister, will do his utmost to facilitate a pacific solution.

London, Oct. 24.—The French ambassador to Great Britain, Baron De Courcel, will arrive here from Paris tonight, and there is good authority for the statement that he is the bearer of a proposition to the Marquis of Salisbury, which may satisfy both governments. The British government will issue another blue book tonight, the most important feature of which will be a dispatch dated October 12, from the Marquis of Salisbury, to the British ambassador at Paris, Sir Edmund Monson, reporting the previous interview with Baron De Courcel, in which the latter wished to ascertain what solution of the question was possible, and to which the Marquis of Salisbury says: "I generally insisted that the Nile valley had belonged and still belonged to Egypt, and that whatever diminution that title had suffered by the Mahdi's conquest had been removed by the victory at Omdurman." The Marquis of Salisbury then dwelt on the unpleasantness of Major Marchand's position, which Baron De Courcel denied, and finally the British premier, in response to Baron De Courcel's suggestion, offered to supply Major Marchand with food and ammunition in order that he might be able to reach French territory.

Baron De Courcel then said France wanted an outlet on the Nile, and the Marquis of Salisbury requested that the whole proposition be made in writing.

The Salisbury dispatch, in conclusion, said: "The extreme indefiniteness of Baron De Courcel's propositions made it impossible for me to express or form an opinion relative to the territory claimed by France in the Bah-el-Ghazal region. Under the circumstances, the discussion has been fruitful of misapprehension. I informed him it was in no way my duty to discuss the French claims now, but that in abstaining therefrom I must not be understood as in any degree submitting their validity."

This was the last interview between the ambassador and the premier on this subject. Baron De Courcel then went to Paris and it is thought that the proposition which he brings tonight embodies the points indicated in this conversation. The British cabinet council has been fixed for Thursday next.

EGYPT'S ATTITUDE.

The blue book also contains interesting letters from Moustapha Pasha, the regent of Egypt to General Kitchener, and Lord Cromer, the British diplomatic agent, respectively, showing Egypt's attitude. He wrote to General Kitchener, warmly thanking him for taking possession of Fashoda and thereby reconquering for Egypt the provinces which assure her existence and from which she only retired provisionally. The regent in writing to Lord Cromer, protested against "the French violation of Egyptian territory," adding that Egypt had never lost sight of the reconquest of the provinces of the Soudan, which are the actual sources of the vitality of Egypt and from which she only withdrew owing to force majeure. He also said that the reconquest of Khartoum would fail to have its effect if the valley of the Nile was not restored to Egypt. Moustapha Pasha confirmed French discussion on the subject of Fashoda, urging Lord Cromer to use his good offices with the Marquis of Salisbury, "in order that the incontestable rights of Egypt may be recognized and that all the provinces occupied up to the rebellion of Mohamed Ahmed be restored to her."

SENSELESS OPINIONS.

Paris, Oct. 24.—Le Siecle, after urging peace, remarks: "France would hardly come off better in a war with England than did Spain in the war with the United States. France will be better employed in developing her colonies than in thwarting England." Le Aut rate ceers that France ought never to have gone to Fashoda, adding: "It was a stupid mistake and now England calls on us to get out. Well, it is no use talking, we shall have to get out, otherwise there will be war which would be madness."

THE PAPERS PLEASED.

London, Oct. 25.—The Fashoda yellow book issued by the French government, having left some slight misgivings in this country as to Lord Salisbury's firmness in dealing with the French ambassador, Baron De Courcel, a speedy dissipation of these fears followed in the publication of yesterday's blue book. It is especially welcomed by the London papers, which this morning expressed their satisfaction, notably at the view of the Egyptian regent, which is held to nullify entirely the French idea that England lacks the approval of the Egyptian government. The Times says: "Lord Salisbury's version of the interview with Baron De Courcel is decidedly a dispatch to relieve the British mind."

The Standard says: "The blue book removes apprehensions regarding Lord Salisbury's position which it would have been unsafe to leave uncorrected."

The Daily News thinks the blue book confirms the impression left by the yellow book, namely, that France is seeking a loophole.

WAR IN THE BALANCE.

PARIS IN A FERMENT—INTERNATIONAL DISSENSIONS.

Great Britain Prepared for War If It Must Come—A Settlement Anticipated.

Paris, Oct. 23.—The absolute calm of the past week is thought by some to be that which precedes the storm. On Tuesday parliament will meet under circumstances which, for more than a century, are without a parallel. France is avowedly divided against herself by the violence of both the opponents and the partisans of revision, for when Frenchmen quarrel among themselves, they show no mercy. Menaced with a conflict for supremacy of the civil and military authorities which may strike at the very existence of the republican form of government; confronted with the possibility of war with England about half an acre of malarial African swamp, exasperated by professional patriots, Nationalists, revolutionists, Socialists, Reactionary leaders, popularity hunters and free lance journalists. Add to this the volatile Parisian population, largely composed of hot-headed students just back from the holidays, and youthful idlers from the slums and exterior boulevards, all keenly eager to create a journey historique, in which are to be enacted the two great events so much dreaded by timid observers. The assembling of the chamber on Tuesday, and the opening of the Dreyfus revision by the court by election on Thursday.

M. Deroule and the league of patriots have announced their determination to assemble at the Place de la Concorde on Tuesday and "denounce by word and act the insults that the cabinet has allowed to be heaped upon the army, the flag and the nation." A vigilance committee in permanent session at Belleville, consisting of forty members, elected by "a coalition of seven Revolutionists, Socialists and Anarchists," has also declared its intention of assembling on the Place de la Concorde on Tuesday and making a counter demonstration against Deroule and his league, who are accused of plotting to establish a military dictatorship. Meanwhile the government is taking extraordinary measures to preserve order, which recall the most exciting days of Boulangerism.

The garrison of Paris now amounting to 50,000 men will remain in barracks ready to move on the shortest notice. No one unprovided with a deputy's ticket will be admitted to cross the Pont de la Concorde: no group consisting of more than three persons will be allowed to appear on the Place de la Concorde. Large bodies of cavalry and infantry and the Garde Republicaine will be concealed in the Tuilleries Gardens and behind the Palais Bourbon. Observant Parisians who have weathered many a revolution and journey historique highly commend these measures, and express confidence that there will be no fighting, no brawls or disturbances of any kind next Tuesday, although all admit that the corner wine shops, which always form centres of Parisian political activity, will reap aists like Louis Desmoline, encourage street demonstrations and declare that the "republic having at last destroyed every other form of authority, the ground is now prepared for the advent of Judge Lynch, who will certainly put in his appearance in Paris on Tuesday."

Moderate and well balanced papers like Le Figaro, Le Temps, Le Debat, Le Matin, Le Soleil, and Millerand's Socialist Le Rappel, call imperatively upon all good citizens to hold aloof from public manifestations of every

A Dunnville Jeweller's Wife

CURED OF PALPITATION OF THE HEART AND SMOTHERING SPELLS BY MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

Mrs. D. E. Lasalle, Canal Street, Dunnville, Ont., whose husband keeps a jewellery store, and is one of the best known and most progressive citizens of Dunnville, Ont., gives the following description of her recent experience in the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills: "I took Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for weak nerves, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, smothering spells at night and sleeplessness. Before I used them I could not get restful sleep, and my nerves were often so unstrung that I would start in alarm at the least noise, and easily worried."

"Last February I commenced taking this valuable medicine, and it proved the right remedy for my weak and shattered nervous system. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills restored my nerves to a strong and healthy condition, gave regular and normal action of the heart."

"I sleep well now, and am better in every way, and I recommend them heartily to all who suffer as I did."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists. T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

Laxative Pills cure Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Dyspepsia. Every pill guaranteed perfect, and to work without a gripe or pain. Price 25c., all druggists.

kind. What will become of the Brisson cabinet when the chamber meets is the question on every one's lips. Its downfall is predicted from almost all quarters, but in parliamentary circles the belief is gaining ground that as Fashoda looms up as an ever increasing danger, and as the feeling of the country is absolutely opposed to going to war for it, the opposition will insist that the Brisson cabinet shall be compelled to bear the opprobrium of yielding to Lord Salisbury's demands, and will not permit the resignation until a satisfactory arrangement with England is concluded. In other words, just as Sagasta's advisers in the cortes will not permit him to withdraw until he has drained the cup to the dregs by signing the treaty of peace with the United States so Brisson's opponents in the chamber will not allow him to retire until he has disposed of the Fashoda nightmare as best he can. Consequently Fashoda is the crux of the situation whether regarded from the point of view of home or of foreign politics. Notwithstanding the widespread opposition to them some of the supporters of the Brisson cabinet express confidence that they will be able to weather the storm by refusing to discuss the Fashoda question in the chamber and by boldly taking issue on M. Cavagnag's interpellation in which the ex-minister of war declares his intention of demanding that the Dreyfus affair be removed from the court of cassation and be entrusted to a court martial. But the drift of opinion is that as soon as the Brisson ministry shall have been compelled to humiliate itself by making a satisfactory arrangement about Fashoda, its days are numbered.

THE FINANCIAL WORLD.

The Markets Excited but No Panic—Diplomats Do Not Anticipate War.

New York, Oct. 23.—The London correspondent of the Tribune, in cable to his paper to-day, reviews at length the Fashoda affair, and the probability of war between Great Britain and France. He says in part: "The newspaper war over Fashoda still continues with energy, and is creating a feeling of uneasiness, which is not without its effect upon the market. The powers would need to be dragged with powerful opiates in order to prevent them from reveling in the excitement caused by the alarming rumors of blockading operations by the British squadron, and the press exhibits of the comparative strength of the English, French and Russian navies. Even Mr. Punch has put a long face and turned a big bear this week. A clever, but ill-timed, cartoon, depicting a French organ grinder with a monkey in military uniform beating a drum before John Bull's door, sent stocks down several points. It was an admirable pictorial summary of English opinion, but it exposed the French army to unmerited contempt and tended to produce intense irritation across the channel. The cabinet ministers and the Liberal leaders have also combined to depress the stock market by the gravity and uncomplimentary tone of their comments on the Fashoda affair. Yesterday was Trafalgar day. While there has been a depressed stock market with signs of recovery at the end of the week there has not been a panic feeling at any moment. High diplomacy and high finance are ordinarily in close touch and there has been no indications that the great financiers of London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna apprehend an outbreak of war. London bankers frankly say that there will be no war outside the newspapers. Current diplomatic opinion in London may be summarized as follows: England cannot allow France to occupy Fashoda, or even discuss the question as one open to negotiation. This contention cannot be abandoned whether the Soudan is Egyptian by previous conquest or British and Egyptian by conquest and actual possession. France must therefore, either order Marchand to retire or be prepared to challenge England to fight. The political situation in France is so critical that the ministers and army staff are eager to divert attention from the Dreyfus affair, and would yield to the temptation of declaring war on England if they could depend upon carrying Russia with them. Count Muraviev is believed to have visited Paris for the purpose of making known Russia's willingness or refusal to stand by France. Until his answer is received the situation remains grave, and the activity in the French dock yards may be regarded as evidence that naval officials are trying to find out what they can do in an emergency."

Paris, Oct. 22.—The house to-day was agitated during the early portion, and subsequently the uneasiness experienced regarding the outcome of the Fashoda dispute subsided. This was due to a growing belief that the matter will be amicably arranged. The tears were somewhat uneasy. International securities were well maintained. They were led by Portuguese securities, which advanced on a rumor that an agreement as to the lease of Delagoa Bay is about to be signed. The Turkish securities were firm, and Rio Tinto improved.

A FISHY YARN.

New York, Oct. 23.—The London correspondent of the Sun says: Current rumor credits Mr. Chamberlain, secretary for the colonies, with a statement made in the course of a conversation on the steamship Majestic to the effect that war with France is inevitable within a few years and might as well come now when England is ready and has a good chance. Mr. Chamberlain is said to have added that there are several disputes with France which war alone can definitely settle.

LE FIGARO'S OPINION.

Le Figaro declares that there is not a single statesman worthy of the name in Europe who believes in the possibility of a conflict between England and France. "When England finds an equivalent for Fashoda," the paper adds, "the trouble will no longer exist."

among them being the future ownership of Egypt and Morocco and the French shore question in Newfoundland. Persons who are supposed to know Mr. Chamberlain's views at first had doubt if he would have committed himself in the manner suggested in a mixed company on an Atlantic liner, but admit there is not the least improbability that the opinions attributed by rumor are actually held by him.

AN ENGINEER'S STORY.

SUFFERED THE PANGS OF RHEUMATISM FOR YEARS.

Was Reduced in Weight From 180 to 130 Pounds—His Friends Feared That Recovery Was Impossible—Now Actively Attending to His Duties.

From the Midland Free Press.

Alexander McKenzie is one of the well known residents of Brookholm, Ont., where he has lived for many years. A few years ago it was thought that an early grave would be his; on the contrary, however, he is now stout and strong, and the story of his recovery is on the lips of almost all the citizens of that burgh. The writer, while visiting in the village, could not fail to hear of his recovery, and with the reporter's proverbial nose for news decided to put to the proof the gossip of the village. The reporter visited Mr. McKenzie's home and was introduced to Mrs. McKenzie. Enquiry elicited the information that Mr. McKenzie was not at home, but when informed as to his mission the lady freely consented to tell the reporter of her husband's case. Her story runs like this: "Mr. McKenzie is 40 years of age, an engineer by profession, and is now on a boat on the lakes. About five years ago he began to feel twinges of rheumatism in different parts of his body and limbs. For a time he did not think much of it, but it gradually got worse until the pain was such that he was unable to work, and could not get rest at nights. I would have to get up two or three times a night," said Mrs. McKenzie to try and relieve this intense suffering. Of course he consulted a physician who pronounced his trouble sciatic rheumatism. The doctor did what he could for him, but without giving any permanent relief. This went on for several years sometimes he would be some better and try to work, then the trouble would come on again and be as bad as ever."

He was pulled down from being a stout man of 180 pounds to about 130, and was so thin and miserable that all who knew him thought it would be only a matter of a short time until he would be in his grave. For four years did he thus drag along a miserable existence, until in the beginning of 1897 some one recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Tired of medicine, with some reluctance he procured a box and gave them a trial. Almost at once a change was perceptible and as he kept on taking them, the improvement continued, and he was soon able to be about. By the time he had taken about a dozen boxes he was free from the slightest twinge of rheumatism, and as stout and strong as he had been before his affliction. So great is his faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that when he left home recently to go up the lake for the summer, he took three boxes with him as a preventative against a possible recurrence of the trouble. Mrs. McKenzie was quite willing that this story should be made public, and believes that she owes her husband's life to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, nervous headache, nervous prostration, and diseases depending upon humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc., all disappear before a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions. Sold by all dealers and post paid at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Do not be persuaded to take some substitute.

The religious devotee burns a lot of incense and the editor burns a lot of no sense.

RUSSIA'S AGGRESSION.

A Russian Regiment Occupies New Chwang and the Forts at the Mouth of the Lio Ho.

London, Oct. 20.—A dispatch from Shanghai to a London news agency says: "A Russian regiment occupied the town of New Chwang, province of Liao Tung, and the forts at the mouth of the river Lio Ho on October 15, thus securing complete possession of New Chwang. The native troops fled without making any opposition, under orders from the Empress Dowager and Li Hung Chang. A British gunboat was in the river at the time. Its non-resistance is regarded as the virtual British abandonment of the whole of Manchuria to the Russians and gives Russia an invaluable strategic position. Great Britain is certain to lose the New Chwang trade, of which it has had eighty per cent."

Steamers Overdue.

St. Johns, Nfld., Oct. 22.—Fears are entertained for the safety of the Moravian mission steamer Washington, which has been collecting products from the mission stations among the Labrador Eskimoes. When last heard from, nearly a fortnight ago, she was reported as disabled and making her way towards St. John's for repairs. It is feared she foundered in the recent gales on the northern coast.

The British steamer Ingram, Capt. Stevenson, from Swansea, for Tilt Cove, with a cargo of copper, is also overdue.

ANOTHER CASE OF PLAGUE.

Vienna, Oct. 22.—The Neue Freie Presse states that another man who was in attendance upon Herr Barrusch, the assistant in the bacteriological establishment of Professor Nothnagel, who died from the bubonic plague on Wednesday last, has been attacked by the disease.

A Victim to Science.

London, Oct. 19.—A special dispatch from Vienna says that an employee in the bacteriological department of Professor Nothnagel's establishment died of plague. The professor, it added, recently returned from Bombay, and has been cultivating the bubonic plague bacillus for purposes of investigation.

A LOVE MATCH.

The Young Queen of Holland Is Betrothed to Prince William of Wied.

New York, Oct. 19.—A dispatch to the World from Paris says: It is reported directly from Holland court circles that the engagement of the young Queen Wilhelmina to Prince William of Wied is a settled fact.

Young women all over the world will be very glad to learn that this is a love match. Prince William is 22 years of age, four years older than his royal fiancée. He is Queen Wilhelmina's second cousin. His mother was Princess Marie of the Netherlands, who married the reigning Prince of Wied in 1871. Prince William's father was conspicuous at all the brilliant and joyous ceremonies attending Queen Wilhelmina's coronation early last month. The young queen and her mother will go to Stuttgart next week to be present at the marriage of the Princess Pauline of Wurtemberg and the Prince Frederic of Wied, Prince William's elder brother. This wedding takes place on October 26th and it is probable that the announcement of the queen's own engagement will be made then.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—A banquet will be tendered Lord and Lady Aberdeen by the citizens of Montreal on Thursday evening, November 10, on the occasion of their leaving Canada. The banquet will take place in the Windsor hotel and ladies as well as gentlemen will participate. The governors of McGill university have decided to present an address to Lord and Lady Aberdeen on their leaving Canada.

HEALTH, STRENGTH AND VIGOR

CAN BE OBTAINED BY THE USE OF

DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT.

To men suffering from any Weakness I have a little book which is sent sealed, Free. Every young, middle-aged and old man should read it. Address:

DR. D. T. SANDEN,
132 ST. JAMES ST., MONTREAL

MET DEATH BY FIRE.

SAD FATE OF AN OLD LADY AT CORNWALL, ONT.

Tried to Save Her Money — Two Other Members of the Family Seriously Injured.

Cornwall, Oct. 18.—The residence of Mrs. McDonald, corner of Pitt and Fourth streets, was totally destroyed by fire this morning, and one of the occupants, Miss Annie McDonald, lost her life, while another, William Williamson, of Williamstown, received terrible injuries and will, probably die. The fire was started from a defective chimney with an open fireplace in the parlor. The falling of pictures in the parlor aroused Mrs. McDonald at 2.30 a. m. and she and her daughter got up, thinking some one had broken into the house. When they discovered the house was on fire they took Miss Annie McDonald, an old lady 65 years of age, down to the front door and told her to get out. Mrs. McDonald then went back up stairs and aroused her two nephews, J. McPhail, of St. Andrews, and Wm. Williamson, and her brother-in-law, A. McDonald. By this time the whole house was on fire and in making her escape she was badly burned about the face and arms. McPhail and McDonald escaped unhurt but Williamson must have lost his way, and when he finally came through the fire he was so badly burned about the head, body and limbs that his recovery is doubtful. Meanwhile the old lady, Miss Annie McDonald, disappeared, and although the fire brigade were making heroic efforts, it was some time before any one could get into the upper part of the house, where they finally found her body. It appears that being left alone at the front door she went back up stairs to save her valuables. She must have secured them and started out, but missed her way in the smoke and was suffocated, for her body, along with a watch, $40 in money, and a deposit receipt for $1,200, her life savings, were found in another room.

THE BOCEHKO MURDERS.

Arrests May Now Be Looked For at Any Moment.

Dominion City, Oct. 18.—There are no sensational developments in the Stuartburn murder case to-day, although it is expected that there may be arrests at almost any time. From the trend of matters just at present it looks as though the crime was the result of deliberate plotting by two or three people, and that at least four were accessory, if not participants in the crime. Suspicion falls most strongly on Simeon Chubey and Nekedy Simcoosook, the hunchback, Nekedy's sister and the wife of the murdered man. The boys swore at the inquest that they went to Wasy's house to get warm, but before that they said that Simeon Chubey sent them to the house to see why Wasy did not come out to make hay. Simcoo did not go to Wasy's house when he heard that something was wrong, but to Nekedy's. Mrs. Bocehko was in Dominion City on Friday night and walked out to Stuartburn on Saturday. She was given to drinking in Austria, it is said, and often staid nights at both Simeon's and Nekedy's houses.

Chief Elliott arrived from Dominion City this morning, covering the distance, over 28 miles, in two hours. In the afternoon, with Detectives Munroe and McKenzie, he examined a number of those having knowledge of the affair and Mrs. Bocehko. They have not fixed upon anybody as the guilty party. Mr. Ginocek, government interpreter, spent the day among the Galicians preparing for the funeral, which will take place to-morrow.

PORTO RICO, U. S. A.

The Island Formally Taken Possession of by General Brooks.

San Juan de Porto Rico, Oct. 18.—Promptly at noon today the United States flag was raised over San Juan. The ceremony was quiet and dignified, unmarred by disorder of any kind. The 11th regular infantry, with two batteries of the 5th artillery, landed this morning. The latter proceeded to the forts while the infantry lined up on the docks. It was a holiday for San Juan and there were many people in the streets. Rear Admiral Schley and General Gordon, accompanied by their staffs, proceeded to the palace in carriages, the 11th infantry and band, with troop P of the 6th United States cavalry then marched through the streets and formed in the square opposite the palace. At 11.40 a. m. General Brooks, Admiral Schley and General Gordon, the United States evacuation commissioners, came out of the palace with many naval officers and formed on the right of the square. The streets behind the soldiers were thronged with townspeople, who stood waiting in dead silence. At last the city clock struck the hour of twelve, and crowds almost breathless and with eyes fixed upon the flag pole, watched for developments. At the sound of the first gun from Fort Morro, Major Bean and Lieut. Castle, of General Brooks' staff, hoisted the Stars and Stripes, while the band played "The Star-Spangled Banner." All heads were bared and the crowds cheered. Fort Morro, Fort San Cristobal, and the United States revenue cutter Manning, lying in the harbor, fired twenty-one guns each. Senior Munoz Rivies, who was president of the recent autonomist council of secretaries and other officials of the late insular government were present at the proceedings.

ALL OVER THE DOMINION.

Barrie, Oct. 18.—Alex. McCarthy, one of the best known and oldest railway mail clerks in Ontario, died this morning, aged 70 years, after a short illness.

Gore Bay, Oct. 18.—While Mrs. Andrew Tracy was preparing her eight-months-old baby for its morning bath she laid the little one on a sofa while she prepared the bath. She poured boiling water into the tub and then went into the kitchen for cold water, leaving the tub sitting close to the sofa on which the child was lying and before the unfortunate mother returned, the baby, in its struggles, rolled into the tub. The child died a short time after.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—The archbishop of Montreal has undertaken to raise $200,000 to pay off the debt now due upon the cathedral, and for this purpose is making an appeal to the clergy, the religious communities and the faithful generally.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Gossip in Catholic circles names Bishop O'Connor, of Peterboro, as successor to the late Archbishop Walsh in the diocese of Toronto, and Vicar General McCann, now administrator of Toronto diocese, to succeed Bishop O'Connor at Peterboro.

Guelph, Oct. 18.—Rich Thompson, who was just released from Central prison, pleaded guilty this morning to carrying explosives and was sentenced to ten years in the Kingston penitentiary. While being taken from the court house to the jail he made a desperate attempt to escape, but was captured before he had gone a dozen steps.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—Miss H. Bailarge, aged about 70, and Dr. Bacon, aged 24, both of Quebec, were married this morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Berlin, Oct. 18.—The town took over the waterworks today from Moffat, Hodgkins and Clarke, of Syracuse, the former owners. A check for $22,000 was handed them, being the balance of the purchase price of $102,000. Mayor Rumpel gave a dinner to the members of the council and others tonight to celebrate the event.

Quebec, Oct. 18.—The legislature has been further prorogued pro forma to the 29th of November. It is understood that for the first time in many years there will be no meeting of the legislature until after the new year's vacation.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—It is stated on good authority that J. R. Stratton, M. P., West Peterboro, will soon enter the provincial cabinet as minister without portfolio, which will no doubt secure him the first vacant ministry. Mr. Stratton is the publisher of the Peterboro Examiner. He has represented his present constituency since 1886.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Vancouver, Oct. 17.—Two Yukon officials arrived from the east yesterday. They are Mr. W. H. Clement, barrister, of Toronto, and Mr. F. P. Gosselin, of Quebec. The former is successor to Registrar Wade, while the latter will act as timber inspector in the Klondike.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 15.—Proof that gold exists in all the northern country is not wanting. J. H. Hole, of Chicago, who is just down from Cas-sair, says a strike has been made on Findlay river. Three men took $85 each from the river bar in a week.

M. H. Sinclair, of Los Angeles, Cal., just down from Dawson, says the future of Dawson will depend largely upon the opening out of the quartz mines and there is a good deal of attention being given in that direction. There have been upwards of 400 quartz claims recorded at Dawson and some claims in the vicinity of the city are attracting considerable attention, not on account of the high grade, but of the immense deposits of gold bearing ore.

C. N. Black has just returned from Peace river. In an interview he states that several prospectors up there on one unfortunate day stole provisions cached by a tribe of Indians which had always been friendly to the pale faces. The red men were not long in retaliating. They fired the grass in the district for miles around. The result was disastrous to the unscrupulous white men. Their horses died of starvation and half starved themselves, they fled from the country and returned to Omineca. Had they not left the district Indian hostilities would have been carried still further.

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—The transport Valencia loaded her heavy freight and with Colonel Fife's battalion of Washington troops and California artillery on board will, it is expected, get off some time this afternoon.

Glenwood, Minn., Oct. 17.—S. H. Seevers, a Soo brakeman, was crushed to death under a locomotive tender in the yards here. He probably slipped from the brake beam while the locomotive was backing. The tender was lifted by his body from the rails. Deceased was a young man, unmarried, and made his home in Minneapolis. He came on to the road only a few weeks ago from Ottawa, Ont.

A BRAVE LADY.

Thrilling Narrative of Miss Katherine Noble, a Survivor of the Mohegan.

Falmouth, Eng., Oct. 18.—Friends of the drowned passengers of the Mohegan have caused placards to be posted at Falmouth offering large rewards for the recovery of the bodies. Part of the surviving passengers have started for London. The survivors of the crew will probably leave this evening. Efforts to assist the members of the crew are being made at St. Kervene, as some of them have not money enough to pay their fares.

Miss Katherine Noble, of Baltimore, one of the rescued passengers, whose courageous conduct is highly praised, is now the guest of Mr. Spry, at St. Kervene. She says that after the shock of the ship's striking she hurried on deck and found that preparations were being made to lower away the boats. She went to her cabin and got a life belt and some wraps. When she returned to the deck she was horrified to find that the men were unable to get the boats clear of the ship. An attempt was made to get the women and children into the rigging, but before it succeeded the vessel listed and a wave swamped everybody. Miss Noble added: "Finding that my wet clothes prevented me from climbing, I doffed my skirts and boots. A sailor came and fastened a life belt around me. The fourth officer then came along and told me to hold onto a hatch with him, adding that help was sure to come. A wave came and separated us. I was washed overboard and did not see him again. After a time I managed to grasp a plank and I clung to it with all my strength. I was washed and knocked about by the sea. I could hear others crying as they sank on all sides. I thought several times that I must let go the plank. Then I remembered that the young woman who was saved at the time of the loss of the North German Lloyd steamship Elbe, in the North Sea, was in the water five hours. Surely, I said, if she did that I can do as much and at times something seemed to assure me that I should be saved for the sake of my mother, for I am her only child. But for the recollection of the woman saved from the Elbe, I do not believe that I could have held on hour after hour. When I had been there three hours a lifeboat rescued me, and I was taken to a fisherman's cottage, where every possible kindness was shown me until Mrs. Spry was good enough to bring me here. I now feel that I shall remain here and will not cross the sea again, but I am anxious to see my mother. I am bruised considerably, but otherwise I am none the worse for my experience."

STORMS IN THE GULF.

A Schooner Capsized and her Crew Drowned in the St. Lawrence.

Quebec, Oct. 18.—The steamship Kirm, which arrived in port from Sydney yesterday, had fearfully rough weather coming up the river on Saturday. Her decks were swept and two of her boats were carried away. She saw a schooner capsized in the storm in the course of afternoon of Saturday. Three unsuccessful efforts were made and two boats were swamped in trying to secure the crew, but they all perished. Three of the men clung to the upturned vessel for a while, but were finally swept away one by one. The captain could not ascertain the name of the schooner.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—Fierce gales and storms are reported from the Lower St. Lawrence. The Allan line steamship Laurentian reports a gale blowing when she passed up the river on Friday, but she got in with little delay and reached Montreal on Saturday. The Allan line steamship California was not so fortunate. The California arrived off Father Point on Saturday at 2 p. m., but the storm was so fierce that no pilot could possibly get aboard and she lay there till 4.30 p. m. Sunday, when one of the pilot's ventured out and got safe aboard and the California continued her voyage up the river. River craft had a hard time of it, and all day Sunday traffic was at a standstill. The Richelieu and Ontario Navigation company's steamer Montreal, which was due in Quebec at 7 p. m. Sunday, reached her dock only at 4 a. m. on Monday. Her officers report a stormy run down, and say that at Port Neuf there was six inches of snow.

Halifax, Oct. 18.—Reports of the shipwrecks as a result of Sunday's and Monday's gale are still coming in. The schooner Mary, of Dalhousie, N. B., foundered off West Point, P. E. I., on Sunday, but the crew was saved. The schooner Sunrise from Sydney for Wollville with coal went ashore off Baccare, near Barrington yesterday, and a total wreck. The steamer Express is stranded on the bow at Portage Island and has been abandoned by the wrecking company who were trying to float her, Sunday's storm having damaged her badly.

Death in the Flames.

Lansie, Mich., Oct. 18.—The three children of Michael Anderson, aged 2, 4 and 6 years respectively, were burned to death today at Pequaming. Their house caught fire while the father was away and the mother was out milking. The place burned very quickly and the children were fatally burned before they could save themselves and each other. It is thought that the eldest child was playing with the kitchen fire and thus set the house afire.

The Burrell Tragedy.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—The inquest on the three children of Mrs. Burrell, murdered by their insane mother on Friday afternoon, was held yesterday. Formal evidence was given showing that the terrible deed was committed as outlined in the report to the Free Press. The medical men explained that death was clearly attributable to strangulation, though there were no finger marks. Dr. H. B. Aikens, who had seen much of Mrs. Burrell at the General Hospital, said she was troubled with brooding and was suffering, he believed, from acute melancholia at the time of the deed. The husband said that very often lately his wife had become sullen and would gaze intently at objects and would tell the children she would soon have them little angels. She was always very fond of them. The jury was out for five minutes only when they returned with a verdict stating formally that the three children, Stanley, Harold and Ethel Burrell, came to their death by being strangled by their mother, Isabella Burrell.

RUSSIA FAVORS PEACE.

Berlin, Oct. 23.—The National Zeitung says it learns that Count Muraviev, the Russian foreign minister, has recommended to the French government a peaceful settlement of the Fashola question, as Russia does not consider war will serve the interests of France.

RIGHT ARM CLIPPED OFF.

A Northern Pacific Engineer Frightfully Maimed at Mandan.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 18.—On Sunday, Engineer Con. Buckley, of the Northern Pacific, and who for the past 14 years has run an engine from Jamestown to Mandan, met with a very painful accident. Mr. Buckley had run his engine on a side track in the Mandan yards and was getting ready to take his train out. He was oiling the eccentric and in order to reach the oil cups put his right arm through the spokes of the drive wheel while he filled the eccentric oil cups, cars were shunted on to his track and to his train. They bumped up against the train and engine and the wheels moved sufficiently to shear off his arm almost as sharp and clean as though done with a cleaver. Conductor Thos. Hatton was one of the first to reach him and as the engineer looked at the stump of his arm he said: "Good God, Tom, I've lost my good right arm." The arm was clipped off about midway between the elbow and the wrist by the big drive wheel and the heavy steel engine frame, which are close together. The severed member fell on the ash pan, where it was discovered after considerable search. Mr. Buckley was at once taken care of, though he lost considerable blood before the arm was amputated by the local surgeon and properly dressed. He was taken to Brainerd where he enters the railway hospital.

Consecration Ceremony.

Kingston, Oct. 18.—The consecration services of the Most Rev. C. H. Gauthier to the archbishopric of Kingston took place this morning, surrounded by the princes of the church, hundreds of Canadian priests and in the presence of crowds. In the cathedral of St. Mary's he took the oath that bound him irrevocably to the destinies of the diocese. Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier and Hon. R. W. Scott represented the Dominion government and the Hon. Wm. Hardy the provincial government. Archbishop Duhamel, of Ottawa, was the consecrator and Archbishop O'Brien, of Halifax, was the preacher.

The Seal Question.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 18.—It is generally believed in shipping circles that the United States government will settle the question of claims presented by the Canadian sealers by purchasing the entire fleet of sealing vessels which make their headquarters at Victoria. Captain I. E. Thayer, surveyor of the American Lloyds, has gone to Victoria, and it is said on good authority that he is commissioned by the government to appraise the value of the vessels of the Victoria fleet with a view to a possible purchasing of these vessels by the government.

A Minister Arrested.

Marshalltown, Iowa, Oct. 18.—Rev. George Parrish, pastor of the Congregational church of this city, was arrested yesterday afternoon by officers from Sandwich, Illinois, charged with forging a check for $300 three years ago under the name of Mark Thompson, and drew on the Illinois Home Missionary society. Parrish was positively identified as Thompson and taken to Sandwich. He is a married man and a brilliant preacher.

Quebec to Labrador.

Quebec, Oct. 18.—The North Shore government telegraph line from Quebec to Labrador has been extended this year to Big Romaine river, 656 miles below Murray bay. An office will be opened at Big Romaine and work is still going on farther east with the intention next spring of extending it to Belle Isle, where it will be of great service in reporting the movements of ships passing through the straits.

Beware of the man who says he loves his neighbor better than himself; he's either a fool or a fibber.

There is a period in every boy's life prior to which he can't be put to sleep at night, and after which it's difficult to get him up in the morning.

VANCOUVER NOTES.

Vancouver, Oct. 17.—Dr. Nordensjold, professor of Vrsa university, Sweden, returned from the north after a geological study of the gold district. He has unlimited faith in the country, and will report to his government that the gold fields will yield abundantly for years.

A. L. Poudre, who wrote up the Ashcroft trail for the press and was one of the best known newspaper mining men on the coast, having very extensive franchise of papers, has suicided at Queen Charlotte. The supposed cause is the keen disappointment at the failure of his many ventures.

Advices from the Fern mine near Nelson state that the result of the cleanup of October 5th amounted to about $10,000. The thirty-three days run and bullion amounted to $6,650, and a car of ore shipped and the concentrates are estimated at $3,000.

Vancouver, Oct. 16.—Already seven of the great chartered banks of Canada are represented in Vancouver and now, as a result of the visit of investigation of Mr. J. M. Turnbull, manager of the Bank of Hamilton, it is more than probable that the Hamilton institution will be added to the growing list of Vancouver banks. Meanwhile Vancouver's clearing house system has quietly begun operation. Its connection with those of Winnipeg, with the growth of which city Vancouverians generally hope their own town to keep well in line.

Decision of an International Case.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The decision of the arbitrators in the McCord case has been rendered, but its purport is not yet known to the state department. The arbitrator was Sir Henry Strong, chief justice of Canada. He telegraphed the state department that he had rendered his decision on Saturday and would supply detailed information by mail. McCord was an American civil engineer living in Peru whose person and property were seized during a revolutionary movement in that country. Various secretaries of state have made efforts to secure compensation for McCord, but it remained for Secretary Olney to secure an undertaking on the part of Peru to submit the case for arbitration. McCord's claim originally was for $200,000. Secretary Olney offered to accept $50,000 as a settlement in full, but since that offer was made other expenses have accrued so that it may be that the final will be for a larger amount.

Killed by a Trolley.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Charles W. Stovel, for some years mayor of Walkerton, and a prominent Conservative politician of Bruce county, was killed in a trolley accident this evening. He was running across Front street, at the intersection of Bay street, when he was struck by a Church street car. He was holding an umbrella straight in front of him, and probably never saw the car. He was hit full in the head by the heavy sheet of glass over the head light, and his skull fractured. He was taken to the hospital, and died in a few hours. Deceased was sixty-five years old, well known throughout the province, and had brothers in Guelph, Nanaimo and Stratford.

FOREIGN NEWS ITEMS.

Madrid, Oct. 18.—Advices received here from Porto Rico say that all the high officials there have taken steps to become naturalized Americans.

London, Oct. 18.—A terrible railway accident occurred last evening on the Great Central railway near Barnet, about eleven miles north of London. An express train going at the rate of a mile a minute came into collision with a freight train that was switching across the track at Barnet Junction. The express piled up a complete wreck. Nine dead and thirteen seriously injured have been recovered from the wreckage and there are others under the debris.

Rough on De Dude.

De Dude (who does not like a very high collar)—These collars are very high. Show me something lower.

Salesgirl (with dignity)—Those are the cheapest we have, sir. We don't keep slopshop goods.—New York Weekly.

The World advises Reformer Guggenheimer of the New York municipal assembly to aim his new ordinance at the fellows who use disgusting language in public places and to let the plain, ordinary swearers alone.—Hartford Courant.

Henpeck's Opinion.

"Professor Brainard is the brainiest man that ever lived."

"Indeed!"

"You bet. 'Why, he can say 'I love' in 29 different languages—and hasn't said it in any."—New York World.

The Cumminsville Sage.

"There is a complete difference," said the Cumminsville sage in the course of a discussion of the oil business, "between being a known well borer and well known bore."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The success of some men is due to their iron wills, and of others to their cheeks of brass.

Moccasins!

Moccasins!

Moccasins!

MEN'S FIRST QUALITY AT $1.15

Now We Have Them

Have What?

Why, those TEA POTS that were all the rage last year! We have them from 15c up.

Men's Suits

... From $4 00 up.

White Wool Blankets

From $2 50.

We have the

Alfred Dolge

Felt Boot in stock.

Ladies' and Gents'.

Our Gents' Furnishing Department is a stunner.

Our Stock of Groceries is large and well assorted, at rock bottom prices. Our Tea still leads at 3lbs. for the $.

Yours for Equonomity.

C. T. BAILEY

& CO.

LOCAL NEWS

Wheat 60 cents per bushel.

Next Monday is Halloween.

Grain is coming in more rapidly this week.

Mr. Atkinson, evangelist, was in town during the past week.

Don't miss the Hauby-Wylie entertainment on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fisher, of Balgonie, were in town on Monday.

J. A. Cowan, manager of the Qu'Appelle Felt Factory, was in Grenfell last Friday.

The McPhee show last Thursday was fairly well attended and was as good as the usual run of such companies.

Nominations for the Assembly of the N.W.T. take place to-morrow in the town hall, from 11 to 12 o'clock a.m.

Harry Macdonald has returned from Moose Jaw, where he has been spending a few days.

J. Lindsay, of Moosomin, travelling agent for the Massey-Harris Co., was in town last Friday and Saturday.

E. W. Miller, Inspector of Fisheries, was in town on Monday.

A. W. McDonald, Inspector of Weights and Measures, has been attending to his work in this town.

W. Broley went to Balgonie on Monday to see his grain threshed. He reports it an A1 sample, though not a heavy yield.

Be sure you see Bailey's window of lamps sparkling in the darkness on Saturday evening.

Mr. Geo. Wilson, representing Love, McAllister & Co., Winnipeg, was in town for two or three days.

His Honor the Bishop of Qu'Appelle occupied the pulpit of St. Peter's Pro-Cathedral morning and evening last Sabbath, the text of his evening discourse being Psalm 23, 1.

Lord Minto will be sworn in Governor-General of Canada on the 12th of November. Great preparations are being made for his reception.

Mr. Robt. Scott, brother of the late Jas. Scott, who has been here for some time, has gone to Oak River, Man., to visit his mother and brother.

Miss McLane left here on the 25th by the western bound train for Onawa City, Iowa, to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Butler.

F. W. G. Haultain, premier of the Territories, was in Qu'Appelle on Sunday last. He is expected to address a political meeting in Indian Head to-night and Qu'Appelle Sun, on Tuesday evening next.

Sergeant Fyffe shot a bird the other day on like any he had ever seen before. He thinks it is a cross between a prairie chicken and a partridge.

The Felt Factory Co. have dug an immense excavation—a sort of an artificial lake, beside the factory, which they consider will supply them with an abundance of water for all purposes.

News dated Sept. 18 has been received from Messrs. Spurling and Boyce. They are preparing their winter quarters and are satisfied with the prospects before them.

Inspector Rothwell was in town visiting the schools last week. His report will be published next week. Qu'Appelle can congratulate herself on having the largest and best equipped school along the line.

We omitted to say last week that a large shipment of sheep, over 300, was loaded at this station two weeks ago. This is the first large shipment of sheep from here. They were purchased by J. R. North, of Fort Qu'Appelle.

Last Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Caswell lost their infant child, which had been ailing for some time. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon and was largely attended. The parents have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Next Monday the Hauby-Wylie Co. will give their entertainment in the town hall under the direction of the Heather Curling Club. The Carberry News says: "The most important feature this winter, however, from an artistic point of view, has undoubtedly been the appearance here of the Hauby-Wylie Concert Co. The company gives its patrons both mirth and music—the one clean, bright and free from the least taint of vulgarity. Mr. Hauby has a Canadian reputation. Artistic finish, delicacy of sounding and fine tonal quality mark his recitals. Mr. Wylie is a humorist and a comedian, common ability, and the possessor of a rich baritone voice. In select selections he is invaluable. The dancing of Miss Frank & Thomas was a special feature and well liked."

Mrs. A. Hollingshead is laid up with an attack of hemorrhage. We hope she will soon recover.

Having decided to take four or five boarders, I will be pleased if any looking for rooms and lodging will call on me.

Mrs. J. A. TRUSLER.

Read Miss Gray's advertisement. She would like the ladies of Qu'Appelle to notice in it a few of the things she always keeps on hand.

The following is the weather report for the week ending Tuesday, 25th: Wednesday, 19th, 28-24; Thursday, 20th, 36-26; Friday, 21st, 43-18; Saturday, 22nd, 53-32; Sunday, 23rd, 39-26; Monday, 24th, 30-16; Tuesday, 25th, 30-25.

We will examine it a favor if anyone in arrears for subscription will call at THE PROGRESS office and settle, or send the amount by mail without being notified any further than this. You will find the date to which you have paid on the label of your paper.

A meeting of the Heather Curling Club was held in the Leland Hotel last Monday evening, when the following officers were appointed: Pres., Mr. B. Harvey; Vice-Pres., Dr. Henderson; Sec.-Treas., J. P. Beatchamp. Messrs. A. Johnston and J. S. Macdonald were appointed representatives to the N.C.C. at Winnipeg. Messrs. B. Harvey, D. S. McCannell and A. Gray were appointed a managing committee to look after the rink for the season of 1893-94.

The "Famous Women" entertainment was given with a crowded house. The programme was a departure from the ordinary. The following are the names of the characters represented and the person representing them: The Judge, Mrs. J. B. Robinson; Herald, C. Booth; Ruth, Mrs. Wait; Mary, Queen of Scots, Miss Truitha; Florence Nightingale, Mrs. Moore; Sister of Charity, Mrs. Parker; Flora MacDonald, Miss Blackwell; Queen Isabella of Spain, Mrs. Doonitie; Samantha Allan, Miss Cameron; Frances Willard, Miss Wendiss; Madame Patti, Mrs. Lidgate; Joan of Arc, Miss Wilson; Queen Elizabeth, Maid of All Work, Miss Brydon; The Mother, Mrs. J. R. Brown; Jennie Lind, Miss Schofield; Mother Goose, Mrs. Anna; Queen of Sheba, Miss Hannah; Rosa Bonheur, Miss Johnston; Grace Darling, Miss Booth; Queen Esther, Miss Beveridge. For so large a number, and of local talent, it deserves great credit. We have not space to comment upon all the characters, but we must particularly refer to Miss Edna Booth in the character of Grace Darling. The free and easy style of reciting, together with the accuracy of meaning brought out, is more than we expected from one so young. She no doubt is talented for such work. The proceeds of the concert amounted to over $60.

A PLEASED CUSTOMER.

How's Your Clothes Line?

Our line is most extensive. If you need anything, then we want to get together. We can please you with material, fit and prices, and would like nothing better than to try. You can please us with an order.

All the latest...

WOOL VESTS

COSSUMES CLOTHES

In dress lengths

BLOUSES, WRAPPERS

UNDERVESTS, Etc.

For fall wear, we have at prices to suit.

Yours most anxiously to please.

J. P. BEAUCHAMP

FARMS FOR SALE

IN THE

Edgeley District

NEAR QU'APPELLE

STATION

GOOD SOIL and

WELL WATERED.

Payments extended over ten years, if required. Parties can be taken over the lands at any time by giving notice beforehand, and all particulars will be supplied by

W. C. CAMERON,

Edgeley Farm.

Edgeley P. O.

Always on Hand

Fresh fruits according to season. General line of Groceries, Evaporated and dried apples, All kinds of candies, Scribbling books, pencils, slates, etc., at

Mrs. E. Ambler's.

Ocean Steamships.

ROYAL MAIL LINES.

Cheapest and quickest route to the Old Country.

From New York

Paris	American Line	Oct. 26
St. Louis	American Line	Nov. 16
Furness	Canard Line	Oct. 29
Ethiopia	Canard Line	Nov. 12
Teutonic	White Star Line	Oct. 26

From Montreal

Laurentian	Alban Line	Oct. 27
Numbion	Alban Line	Nov. 6
Lake Ontario	Beaver Line	Oct. 26
Tongaro	Beaver Line	Nov. 2
Ottoman	Dominion Line	Oct. 29
Dominion	Dominion Line	Nov. 5

Cabin, $50, $60, $70, $80, upwards. Intermediate $30 to $35. Steerage $24.50 and upwards.

Passengers ticketed through to all point in Great Britain and Ireland and at specially low rates to all parts of the European Continent. Prepaid passenger arranged from all points. Apply to the Station Agent, Qu'Appelle.

Or to WILLIAM STITT,

General Agent, Winnipeg

NOTICE

S. Peter's Womens' Guild is now prepared to receive orders,—knitting, mending and other needle-work. For particulars apply to Miss Norah Boyce, Sec.-Treas.; Mrs. Barnett Harvey, Pres.; Mrs. Musgrove, Vice Pres.; or any other member of the Guild.

LOST

Strayed from 22, 18, 14, one mile from Qu'Appelle Station, 1 Roan calf. When last seen, it had a rope around its neck.

J. R. Brown.

TAILORING

Latest Fashions. Perfect Fits.

Prices Cheap. Good Workmanship.

A choice collection of samples to select from.

English and Canadian Tweeds, Serges, Panting, Worsted, and Overcoating.

Everybody likes to be dressed well. Leave your order and get a good fit.

J. A. TRUSLER,

Main St., Qu'Appelle Station

McCAUL & HARVEY,

Lumber, Coal and Insurance.

COAL SOLD FOR SPOT CASH ONLY!

Agents for Galt Mine, Pennsylvania and Western Anthracite, Souris, Lignite and Blacksmith Coal.

NEW

Feed, Sale & Exchange STABLES

Cor. Pacific Avenue and Walsh Street.

First-class accommodation and obliging attendants. Charges moderate.

S. T. GIBSON, Proprietor.

WAGHORN'S GUIDE ON TRAINS AT BOOKSTREETS 5c

.. Fruit and Confectionery ..

APPLES

By the bushel or by the barrel, for keeping, cooking or eating.

A full stock of Flour and Feed always on hand

Confectionery and fruits of all kinds, the freshest and the best.

Biscuits. Fresh Cider and Lemonade.

A. M'KENZIE

Main Street, Qu'Appelle Station.

EAST VIA THE LAKE ROUTES.

STEAMERS LEAVE FT WILLIAM:

ALBERTA... Every Friday.
ATHABASCA... Sunday.
MANITOBA... Tuesday.

Trains from Qu'Appelle connect at Winnipeg with steamboat express leaving there every Sunday, Wednesday and Friday at 10.30, making direct connection with steamers sailing Wednesdays and Fridays.

To the Klondyke via Wrangell and Skaguay at cheapest rates.

Klondyke sailings from Vancouver and Victoria:

City of Topeka	Oct. 27
Danube	" 29
Queen City	Nov. 8

Apply to nearest C.P.R. agent, or to ROBERT KERR, Traffic Manager, Winnipeg

WAGHORN'S GUIDE & PASSENGER LIST TO 50c